Resolution Adopted 72-19; House May Take Quick Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate version of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution was given a "good chance" today of speedy House passage right on to the White House.

This word came from House leadership sources as they examined the measure passed by the Senate Tuesday night, 72-19.

Serves Notice on Kremlin

The resolution serves notice on the Kremlin that America will fight, if necessary, against Communist attack in the strategic Middle East. And it would give Eisenhower more freedom in spending up to 200 million dollars in military-economic aid to that area between now and July 1.

The House first passed the resolution 355-61 on Jan. 30 almost exactly as Eisenhower requested. The Senate put in a number of changes in a lengthy debate which delayed passage for two months after Eisenhower's original urgent request.

On the final Senate vote, 30 Democrats and 42 Republicans were counted for, while 16 Democrats joined Republicans McCarthy (Wis), Jenner (Ind), and Malone (Nev) in opposing.

Get Dulles' Approval

Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday night gave quick approval to the Senate version, saying "the substance is the same" as in the House bill.

"It is now clear," Dulles added, "that the Congress of the United States has, by an impressive, nonpartisan majority joined with the President to assure the peoples of the free nations in the Middle East that the United States stands ready to join with them to build up their strength

Ben-Gurion Triumphs in Knesset Test

Nationalist, Zionist Foes of Pullout Are Beaten in Parliament

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel began moving out of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba Gulf coast today.

Premier David Ben-Gurion crushed parliamentary opposition to the pullout, winning overwhelming votes of confidence. He said there will be peace "if the United States and other powers will keep their promises to us."

Arab disturbances and an Israeli suspicion that the U. N. emergency force planned to restore Egyptian administrators in Gaza interrupted the flow of material from the strategic area for a few hours.

Authoritative reports said the pullout was resumed this afternoon.

Brief Clash in Gaza

The Israeli army announced an Arab civilian and an Israeli soldier were killed and two Israeli soldiers were wounded during an outbreak of sniping and attempted looting.

Ben-Gurion slashed at Egypt's President Nasser in his speech before parliament preliminary to the votes that overwhelmed his foes — the nationalist Herut, the communists and the conservative general Zionists.

"If the United States and other powers will keep their word to us, there will be peace," Ben-Gurion said. "If they will not keep their promise and if they shrink before the Egyptian dictator's threats that he will not allow Israeli shipping in the Aqaba Gulf, there will be no peace."

Opposition Routed

Parliament batted down a series of anti-government motions by majorities ranging around 4-to-1 or better.

Ben-Gurion had reiterated that Israel rejects the Egyptian-Israeli armistice of 1949 as the basis for the future status of the Gaza Strip. He held the armistice is null and void on the ground Egypt violated it by continued belligerency.

There was a promise of quick restoration of the Iraqi Petroleum Co., pipelines across Syria which Syrians put out of action in reprisal for the Israeli-French-British invasion of Egypt last November. Pumping stations were blown up.

The company announced Syria officially agreed to allow it to make repairs and resume pumping of oil from Iraqi fields to the Mediterranean.

Fair Dealing On Highway Bids Pledged

Noble Says He Plans To 'Tighten Up' State Purchase Procedure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways plans to tighten up on its purchasing procedures to provide "fair and open competition" to all.

Highway chief Charles M. Noble made the announcement to newsmen at a press conference today and said the department would have equipment specifications which are "open and clear so that everyone knows what they are bidding on.

"We plan to operate on a basis of no favoritism and free and open competition," he said.

Noble said the department is investigating reports of surplus buying and that a review will be made to determine if all the equipment is needed.

The highway chief said the department also planned to review its inventory in all parts of the state and possibly redistribute or sell any surplus.

He said all highway purchases in the past six months would also be investigated to determine if there have been any irregularities. "We also are going to tighten up on the use of state cars, and make sure they are being used in the best interests of state business," Noble said.

Noble said he hoped his highway program would be ready for presentation to the Legislature within 10 days. He also indicated that a special task force would probably consist of from 20 to 25 members and that the group would be housed in the building formerly occupied by the Ohio Turnpike Commission here.

Noble said the department's right-of-way section also will be housed in this building.

Tough Breaks

Miron slipped on some ice and broke his left leg. While he was traveling home from the hospital, his 2-year-old son, Alan, tumbled from a living room chair and fractured his right leg.

Union Plot Alleged

Oregon Politician Will Face Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators called another Oregon political figure to testify today in the probe of an alleged plot of Teamsters Union officials to control the state's vice profits.

Robert Kennedy, counsel for the special Senate committee investigating alleged labor-industry racketeering, declined to name the witness in advance.

Denies Allegations

Kennedy said he also expects further testimony from Nathan Zusman, operator of the Desert Room. This is a Portland night spot which a bawdy house madam Mrs. Helen Hardy, testified was a referral point for customers to her "call house." She said, Zusman offered financial help to establish the house, and took 20 per cent of the income.

Zusman angrily denied all Mrs. Hardy's allegations, demanding that both he and she take a lie detector tests.

Mrs. Hardy, a massive, greying woman now living in Miles City, Mont., testified she got a green light to open the house from Thomas Maloney, identified to her as the campaign manager of William Langley, Multnomah County district attorney.

'Pig in Poke' Test

She said she met Maloney at Zusman's Desert Room and Maloney assured her she could open a house of prostitution without fear of raids. Maloney has been identified as a Seattle gambler allegedly sent to Portland by teamsters officials to take over gambling and other vice.

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler who has testified he combined with teamsters officials in an effort to take over the city's underworld operations, told the committee union officials ran a test in 1954 or 1955 on whether they had "bought a pig in a poke" in supporting the late Republican Gov. Paul Patterson of Oregon.

Elkins said the test consisted of a successful effort to obtain reinstatement of a State Liquor Commission official. Elkins named the official as Tom Sheridan and said he had been discharged for "accepting gratuities, I believe it was."

He said Sheridan got his job back, losing "a month's pay, that's all," after John Sweeney, teamsters Oregon boss now deceased, sent word to Patterson.

At Portland, Sheridan denied Elkins' testimony.

"I didn't go to Elkins or Crosby or to the Teamsters Union for help in getting reinstated. I petitioned the State Civil Service Commission for reinstatement. To my knowledge, Elkins, Crosby or any of those people never used their influence... for me," he told reporters.

First Returns Indicate Irish Election Close

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—First returns today in the Irish general election indicated a neck and neck race between supporters of Eamon DeValera and John A. Costello.

A West Donegal district 1 of 40 throughout the republic sent the same two men back to the Irish Parliament.

Three years ago the 74-year-old DeValera fell short of gaining a majority in the 147-member Dail (Parliament). He needs to pick up seats to again become Prime Minister.

The coalition administration of the 65-year-old Costello, of the Fine Gael party, collapsed last month and he dissolved Parliament. One man out of every 10 in the republic is on the dole and the coalition broke down over unemployment policy.

About 1,200,000 voters went to the polls Tuesday, approximately 70 per cent of the electorate. The counting of ballots was expected to be slow because of a complicated proportional representation system.

The new Sinn Fein party, which favors force if necessary to unite the republic with the six northern counties still in the British United Kingdom, has only 19 candidates in the running. But it could be the deciding factor in a close election.

Youngstown 'Bomb' Is Only Transistor Radio

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Attorney Don Hanni, former assistant police prosecutor, rushed the small package into the police crime laboratory here late Tuesday. It was crudely wrapped. A bomb? Hanni wanted to know quickly.

Police put the package under their fluoroscope. Sure enough, a maze of wires showed.

A police squad, armed with rifles, rushed the package — but with care — to the police firing range. There was a fusillade of shots—and nothing happened.

Police cautiously crept to the shattered package. They found they had shot the stuffings out of a transistor radio. The radio had been stolen previously from Hanni and the conscience-stricken thief had mailed it back.

Accident Victim, 6, Remains 'Critical'

Karen Richardson, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson of 438 Park St., remains in "critical" condition in Marion General Hospital today after being run over Tuesday by a semi-trailer truck.

She suffered a fractured pelvis, severe internal injuries, a fracture of the right leg and a possible fracture of the left leg.

The accident occurred at 10:59 a.m. in the driveway just east of Taft Junior High School on N. State St., between the school and an adjoining playground. The semi-trailer truck was driven by B. L. Robinson, 29, of Richwood.

The truck driver told police he was driving south on the driveway which exits on Frederick St. He said he saw no one but suddenly felt his rear wheels hit something and stopped to investigate.

Nixon Presents U.S. Library Gift to Ghana

Symbolizes Aid as West African Nation Marks Independence

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — U. S. Vice President Nixon presented a 2,000-volume technical library to the newly independent government of Ghana today as a symbol of American desire to assist the West African nation.

Nearing the end of a four-day goodwill visit, Nixon offered the library, valued at between $15,000 and $20,000, to Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah in an Independence Day ceremony.

Thousands of rejoicing Ghanians still milled around the capital's streets after nightlong celebrations. Most of the 72 foreign delegations showered gifts on the tiny country which now is an independent nation within the British commonwealth.

Russia's delegation was reported giving Nkrumah a Soviet transport plane and some Russian automobiles.

Nixon, who leaves Thursday for Liberia to continue his eight-nation Africa tour, also presented Nkrumah with an etched Steuben glass vase depicting the four freedoms of the press, assembly, religion and speech.

The red, gold and green flag of Ghana was run up in midnight ceremonies, replacing the British Union Jack and signifying formally the establishment of the first Negro nation in the British Commonwealth.

Mighty roars of "Freedom! Freedom!" rose from thousands of throats. Brilliant fireworks exploded against the sky and talking drums carried along the word of independence.

School Board Bill Slated for Study in House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill said today Senate and House leaders do not agree on proposals to substitute an appointive State School Board for the 23-member elected board.

The governor said leaders indicated proposals to do away with the board will receive serious consideration in this session of the Legislature.

"We agreed that the school board bill should be heard in the House," O'Neill told newsmen.

Rep. T. K. Owens (R-Jackson), chairman of the House Education Committee, said hearings would start soon on a bill authorizing the governor to appoint a nine-member state board.

O'Neill indicated he sided with the view of Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) that the board "has not accomplished what it should and has been unwieldy and not effective."

The governor added that House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) was inclined to give the board more time to make a showing.

Police Hunt Sadist After Body Is Found

MAHWAH, N. J. (AP) — Police worked through the night questioning school friends of 15-year-old Victoria Zielinski, victim of a gory rock slaying in a dead end lovers lane Monday night.

Guy W. Calissi, Bergen County prosecutor, said police are hoping the children might be able to give some leads to the crime, said by police to be the work of a sadist. Police said they had no leads as yet.

Calissi said the young honor student may have been picked up in a car by a friend while walking home from a homework session at a schoolmate's house.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler announced Tuesday that Gerald L. Maguire, director of the Kentucky Budget Department, has resigned to take a post with the Ohio Budget Department. John Skipton Ohio finance director, said the 30-year-old Maguire will revamp the Ohio budget procedure.

Acid Is Hurled In Texas Bribe Witness' Face

Chiropractor Victim After Testifying in Legislative Inquiry

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—An unidentified assailant Tuesday night splashed acid in the face of a prominent chiropractor who testified in an investigation of a bribe charge against State Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Dr. E.E. McMeans Jr., 32, his left eye patched, said he had no idea who tossed the bottle of acid at him. He said he knew of no direct connection it could have with the Cox case. But Cox said he thought it was connected with the investigation of the bribe charges.

Missed Serious Injury

Texas Ranger Johnnie Klevenhagen, assigned to the case, said, "If the acid had hit him in the face full force, he would not have had much face left. He got only the splatter."

McMans' left eye was practically closed when he lifted the patch for newsmen. The lower eyelid was a bluish color. He said there was a "little pain."

McMeans said he was leaving his clinic when the buzzer on the back door sounded. He said when he opened the door, someone threw a jar of liquid at him.

'Felt Like Fire'

". . . It felt like fire hitting me," he said. "I ran into the flower shop next door. They have a sink with a faucet high in the air. I turned the faucet on full force. I believe that is what saved me from permanent injury."

Klevenhagen said florist Floyd Steward, 46, told him when McMeans ran in his shop, acid was still bubbling on his face.

McMeans, a Boy Scout leader and church deacon in this southeast Texas town, said he could see "some" through the damaged eye, "but it is very blurred."

"It may be the effects of the medication," however, he said.

Hydrochloric Acid

Conroe Chief of Police Eddie Stephan said a pharmacist identified the liquid as muriatic acid, the commercial name for hydrochloric acid.

Cox, 36, resigned as a member of the Texas House of Representatives after being indicted on a charge of agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a bill he introduced that would outlaw the practice of naturopathic medicine in Texas. In testimony before the House Investigating Committee, Cox said he introduced the bill after discussing naturopaths with a chiropractor whom he identified as McMeans.

Syrians Lift Oil Blockade

Agree to Repair of Strategic Pipeline

LONDON (AP) — Syria agreed today to allow the repair of damaged pipelines in the country and the pumping of oil to Mediterranean ports.

The Iraq Petroleum Co., here and Damascus dispatches said the Syrian government's decision was reached following Israel's agreement to withdraw her troops from the Gulf of Aqaba and Gaza Strip areas.

Booster stations along IPC pipelines from Iraq through Syria to the coast were blown up by the Syrian army soon after the Israeli attack in Egypt's Sinai Desert. The American-owned tapline from Saudi Arabia was not molested.

The cutting off the IPC pipeline flow, together with the closing of the Suez Canal, brought on gasoline and fuel rationing in Britain and European countries.

Syria had refused to permit repairs as long as Israeli troops occupied positions seized in the invasion.

Ike's Board Sees Continuing Need

Call for Slash Clashes With Foreign Aid Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional calls for foreign aid cuts greeted today a presidential commission's recommendation that the assistance program be continued at its current spending rate.

The seven-member commission headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless proposed that the program be changed, however, to include more loans and fewer direct grants, to spur more private development, and to permit longer range planning of projects.

To Study Recommendations

It expressed hope spending eventually can be cut, but added, "The United States must resolve to stay the course, and must abandon the false hope that collective security costs are temporary."

The report was made public at the White House Tuesday. President Eisenhower, who named the citizens' advisory group five months ago to make the study, will consider the recommendations in drawing up his own foreign aid message to Congress.

Initial comment from Congress members praised some sections of the report and criticized others.

'Set Sights Too High'

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said he thought the commission "set its sights on the yearly level of aid too high," but expressed satisfaction at the "emphasis on loans, rather than grants."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he was disappointed the group "apparently feels that foreign aid, in sizable amounts, must be continued into the indefinite future." Rep. Robert C. Byrd (D-WVa) agreed.

But Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said, "The report shows that when intelligent, practical men who are used to responsibility take time to study our foreign assistance pro-

"The great experiences of life are always discoveries of spiritual realities," says Bishop Gerald Kennedy of the Methodist Church, Los Angeles Area. "Anything that helps make real to us the source of faith and courage is a treasure beyond price. I dare to make that claim for 'Jesus Loved Them.'"

"Sam Patrick has brought to life the contemporaries of Jesus with dramatic freshness," Bishop Kennedy adds.

In commenting on "Jesus Loved Them," Bishop Kennedy says the following about the contents: "The text is excellent in every way. It shows the touch of one who has much more than a hearsay knowledge of the Bible. Here is the careful thought of a critical scholar without the academic jargon. The brief descriptions of these people Jesus loved, reflect a sympathy and insight which helps us to understand them and ourselves. Omar Garrison has the direct and simple style of the newspaper man which is also the style of most of the New Testament."

Construction Council Scrapped Too Soon?

Ohio 'Watchdog' Group Cited for Highway Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill last week signed a bill, sponsored by his administration, abolishing the Ohio Highway Construction Council.

What did the council accomplish during its 3½ years of life? Did it help expedite Ohio's road program or did it slow it down?

In asking the Legislature to abolish the council O'Neill said it had accomplished its purpose. It was about that time the council handed O'Neill a 420 million dollar program for major thoroughfares for the next two years.

The council was created by a Republican Legislature to keep an eye on the highway program of a Democratic administration. Both the Legislature and administration are Republican now.

THE LEGISLATURE authorized 500 million dollars in bonds to finance a speed-up improvement program on main Ohio roads. And the council was instructed to designate a major thoroughfare system and was given the last word on projects on the system.

The council under chairmanship of Clingan Jackson, Youngstown newsman, got to work promptly. After many hearings and meetings with persons from throughout Ohio, it designated 6,200 miles of roads as major thoroughfares. And it gave other classifications to the rest of Ohio's 18,000 miles of roads.

Then began the continuous task of deciding which roads should be improved first and how the work should be financed.

THE COUNCIL worked closely with the Ohio Department of Highways, step by step, working out 316 projects to provide 1,278 miles of improvements to the major thoroughfare system at a cost of 520 million dollars.

By the first of this year all but 43 projects involving 283 miles of road at an estimated cost of 114 million dollars had been placed under contract. These 43 projects will be ready for bids by roadbuilders by June 30, the council reported to Gov. O'Neill.

This means that many of the highway improvements motorists now enjoy and others that will be made in the next few years resulted from projects approved and given the green light by the council.

The council also has worked out projects for the next two years, approving engineering reports and plans for 87 projects costing 353 million dollars that will be the basis for O'Neill's immediate road program.

THAT IS because those are the only plans that are in the hands of the governor at this time. The governor also has the council's plan to buy 61 million dollars worth of land needed in the future for 111 projects.

Projects for the next two years approved by the council involve 20 traffic bypasses around communities totaling 113 miles, 45 rural projects that would add 230 miles of new roads and 22 city projects involving 24 miles of road.

SINCE THE COUNCIL was formed the huge federal interstate road program entered the picture. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of improvements to the interstate system which includes 1,300 miles of Ohio roads.

Ohio's major thoroughfare program enabled the state to take immediate advantage of the new federal aid. The Buckeye state now leads the nation in interstate projects under contract.

Ten interstate projects involving 48 million dollars will be ready for bid-taking during the first half of this year, and 71 million dollars in federal interstate funds has been set aside for Ohio for this year, the council told the governor. And Ohio is working on plans for 20 more federal projects that will cost about 200 million dollars.

IN THE MAIN the council and highway department worked harmoniously. There were some differences of opinion over some individual projects. The main split in their thinking was over how the cost of projects in the big cities should be shared.

The department said cities should pay only 5 per cent, the council insisted on 10 per cent, so more state money would be available for other roads.

The attorney general — now the governor — settled the question by ruling the council had no authority to set the amount for local participation.

Some persons believe the council duplicated work of the highway department, thus slowing down work on projects. Figures show the department contracted for 74 million dollars of road work in 1953. The council was formed late in that year.

IN 1954 THE figure rose to 115 million dollars, to 197 million dollars in 1955 and to nearly 224 million dollars last year.

Veteran department engineers who worked closely with the council say the Legislature made additional steps in road-building necessary. Whenever several groups of persons work on the same thing, some delay results, they said.

Yet they consider the council did "a very good job," and was a "watchdog" over the 500 million dollar state bond issue for roads.

When the council existed the Legislature virtually had its representatives right in the middle of the highway program. Department engineers said that resulted in the Legislature having more confidence in the highway program.

The council itself believed its reports to the Legislature, various officials and general public "brought highway programming under a widespread public scrutiny and has helped maintain public confidence in the state highway programs." That's the language in the council's final report.

THE COUNCIL also was a buffer between pressure groups wanting specific road improvements and the governor and highway department.

Before the council was established, the department and governor met many times with such groups. When the council was a going concern they could refer visitors to the council with "we can't do anything until the council acts."

And the council met with them, discussing everything from traffic lights and city routing to multi-million dollar superhighways to untangle traffic. This gave the department more time for actual roadbuilding.

The council decided at the beginning not to become a mere rubber stamp of the highway department. Members Jackson, Wilbur M. Cotton and Jesse E. Van Fossen and their executive secretary, Lauren Glosser, visited sites of proposed projects and asked a lot of questions.

SOMETIME THE answers they got enabled them to change the department's thinking on some projects. They also revisited some projects during various planning stages.

They traveled over every one of the 6,200 miles they placed on the major thoroughfare system and could give driving times between any two points in Ohio.

They put their collective foot down on proposals to spend bond money on road resurfacing jobs, insisting the law intended the money for road reconstruction.

They had their programs ready for the Legislature by mid-January, both this year and in 1955. The new administration still is working on a road program for which it will ask the Legislature to appropriate money.

The council reviewed its original road classifications, made some changes. Their classifications still stand.

Most of its decisions were final, but there was no question that Jackson directed the council.

There are some who feel the council was abolished too soon. They think the council program should be submitted to the Legislature after a study by the governor, and the council should follow through on any changes necessary.

Others feel the proper time to abolish the council was when administrations changed. That's what happened.

The West German Repubic will buy 12 million tons of American coal in 1957, according to industry estimates.

Racial Troubles Quieting Down in Suburb of Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Things are "much quieter" on Detroit's Cherrylawn Street, says a Negro woman who moved into the white neighborhood five weeks ago.

Miss Ethel Watkins, a Negro seamstress, said:

"My garage was broken into last week but there haven't been any more gatherings. And I have not gotten any threatening letters recently I'm still getting letters but people now are signing their full names and giving their addresses, so you know they're not threatening. Mostly they are asking questions."

Miss Watkins moved into the neighborhood in northwest Detroit Feb. 1. Shortly afterward she reported to police that two windows had been broken by stones and that crowds were gathering at night.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Columbus Host To Congress of Biophysicists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Experiments have shown that electricity can be used to cure blindness, relieve headaches, and, in some cases, slow down or speed up normal growth, a group of biophysicists were told today

Dr Carroll E Humphrey of the applied physics laboratory of Johns Hopkins University told the first National Congress of Biophysicists that experiments have shown electrical impulses can change the rate that blood flows to the human eye. It can thus improve nutrition to the point where vision is restored in some cases in which circulatory disorders have been the cause of blindness, he said

Other experiments have shown that, by treating blood vessels in the head with electrical impulses, tension and migrane headaches can be relieved, Dr. Humphrey said

Dr Humphrey said results of the experiments are not surprising, since pain and other sensations are measurable voltages conducted along nerves When one voltage exists, he said, another voltage can stop or alter it.

In another paper prepared for delivery at today's congress, Dr. Charles Wunder, an Iowa State University scientist, said experiments have shown that tremendous increases in gravity can slow down the growth of living organisms

Tests with fruit fly larvae, he said, showed the larvae grew at less than one fourth their normal rate when subjected to centrifugal forces up to 5,000 times the force of gravity

Dr Wunder said he did not know what caused the slow up, but he theorized it may be that energy normally used in growth is "shifted" to compensate for the abnormal pressure

Hillsboro Murder Trial Is Entering Second Day

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—The trial of Robert Lee Curtis, 22, Greenfield, charged with first degree murder in the death of a Greenfield taxi firm operator, enters its second day here today

Curtis, formerly of Zanesville, is accused of fatally stabbing Durward E Perry Dec 8

Defense attorneys and the state presented opening arguments Tuesday after a ten-man, two woman jury was seated The trial is being heard in Highland County Common Pleas Court

Curtis based his plea of innocent on grounds of temporary insanity He has been declared legally sane by Dr R E Bushong, superintendent of Lima State Hospital

11 Phone Workers Released by Judge

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Eleven members of the Communications Workers of America (CWA), found guilty of violating a court injunction, are free today because a judge believes punishment at this point would be "an act of vengeance"

The 11 were found guilty of interfering with employes of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co during a 7½-month strike against the company, now ended

Judge James Lang Jr of the Adams County Common Pleas Court released the 11 union members with the comment:

"Punishment for violation of the law is used as a deterrent to prevent others from doing the same things When the time passes for punishment to be a deterrent, it becomes an act of vengeance"

IT'S ONLY A NICKEL

But the loss of over 600 in one week really adds up, ($30.00 to be exact).

This is an unpleasant situation that is happening at The Marion Star Newspaper Racks that are located at various corners and locations throughout the city.

These racks are operated on the honor system, your honor is trusted to see that the proper amount is placed in the coin container when papers are removed. (Please do not remove papers one day with the intention of paying tomorrow, we are all apt to forget).

The newspapers for these racks are sold to an independent merchant at a wholesale rate, the money collected from their sale pays for the papers and the remainder is this merchant's profit.

These racks are a service to the people of Marion and this independent merchant must have a living profit if their use is to continue.

Yes, the single issue of the Star is yours for only a nickel, so when you take a paper, please leave a nickel.

Jesus Loved Them

By Patrick and Garrison

MARY THE MOTHER

"And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary."

—Luke I:26,27

Mary, the mother of Jesus, was referred to by the Jews as the daughter of Eli; but early Christian writers called her the daughter of Joakim and Anna.

She was related by marriage to Elizabeth, the wife of Zacharias, the priest.

The fact that she was already with child when she was married to Joseph made her an object of much ridicule by her contemporaries, who did not believe in her accounts of a visitation from Gabriel, nor of the annunciation that she was to become the virgin mother of the Messiah.

The story connected with the birth of Jesus, the flight into Egypt, and the presentation of her Son at the Temple are all related in full in the Gospels.

Mary's profound thoughtfulness and maternal love are indicated in the New Testament account, which says that "his mother kept all these things in her heart."

Perhaps no mother in history suffered the long travail for her son, as Mary in her deep concern for Jesus, from the night of His birth in Bethlehem to the final tragic night of Golgatha.

Scripture mentions her only four times following the reappearance of Jesus and the beginnings of His ministry after 18 years of absence or silence.

The first is the marriage at Cana in Galilee, at which she was present with her Son. The second was at Jerusalem at the last Passover, observed by Jesus. The third was at the foot of the Cross, when Jesus committed her to the care of John, His beloved disciple with the words, "Woman, behold thy son,"; and to John, "Behold thy Mother."

Finally, in the days following the Ascension, Mary met with the faithful disciples in the upper room, where they "all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication."

Couple To Mark 50th Anniversary

Open house Sunday afternoon will mark the observance of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Clark of near Nevada. They will receive their friends between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock in their new residence 12 miles north of Marion, off Route 4 on the Malcolm Rd. They formerly lived on the Melmore Rd. for 14 years.

The celebrants are members of the Mount Zion Church and grange. Mr. Clark has been employed by the Erie Railroad Co. for 35 years and is a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Mrs. Clark is a member of Whitney Lodge No. 846, Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Their wedding took place March 9, 1907 in Findlay. Mrs. Clark's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Levi Close of Oakwood, O., and Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Clark of Marion. Six of their seven children are living. They are: Mrs. Paul (Osa Fern) Richey, of Flushing, Mich.; Mrs. B. J. (Ethel Louise) Brown of South Bend, Ind.; Ralph M., of Wilson Ave., Harold C., of Short St., Robert D., of S. Prospect St. and Richard E., of near Nevada. Mr. Clark has one sister, Mrs. Lulu Merchant of E. Center St. and Mrs. Clark has one sister, Mrs. Ethel Shultz of Saginaw, Mich who was an attendant at their wedding, and one brother, Lloyd Close of Lake, Mich. They also have 16 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Special Service Slated At Church in Delaware

Crawford's Drive Chairmen Named

BUCYRUS — Appointment of eight district chairmen for the annual rural drive of the Crawford County Red Cross chapter was announced today by the campaign's co-chairmen, Richard Shealy and Lloyd Volk.

The district chairman includes: Holmes-Liberty, James Rindfuss and Earl Ross; Chatfield, Arthur Loyer; Lykens, Ora Eyer; Mount Zion, Howard Blaser; Whetstone, Milton Hord; Sulphur Springs, Mrs. Donald Brown, and North Robinson, Lester Ulmer.

Approximately 3,000 letters have been mailed to rural residents explaining the campaign, which was a goal of $2,292.

A canvass of the entire rural area will be conducted from March 11 through 14 volunteer workers. The pledges will be turned in on Thursday night, March 14, at the chapter headquarters here. Refreshments will be served to the workers by the Red Cross canteen corps.

Annual meeting of the chapter will be held April 1, according to John Radler, chapter chairman. The chapter receives an allocation from the combined Community Chest-United Appeal campaign conducted here every fall.

Vandals Sought

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—The Trumbull County sheriff's office today was seeking vandals who damaged a Negro's home in a predominantly white neighborhood 10 miles south of here.

The home, on Oldtown-Girard Road in Weathersfield Township, was bought recently by Jacob R. Stahelts of Youngstown, who was renovating it. He had not moved into the house.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Wide Range of Proposals Submitted

1,374 Bills Set New Assembly Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio legislators introduced 357 bills Tuesday to bring the session mark to 1,374, a modern-day record.

Higher totals were recorded early in the century, but the Constitution of 1912 outlawed "special laws" and all Ohio laws now must be of "equal application throughout the state."

The modern-day record total of 1,355 was set two years ago.

Two Phone Proposals

Among major proposals offered Tuesday—"deadline day" for the introduction of bills in the 102nd General Assembly — where two measures to meet the problems of stoppage of utility service such as in the recent 7½ month telephone strike in Portsmouth and southeastern Ohio.

One of the bills would allow the governor to declare a disaster or emergency area in case of interruption of governmental or utility service and order in the State Highway Patrol with full police power to preserve order.

The other would provide for settlement of labor disputes to prevent interruption of utility services. The proposal by Rep. Robert Taft (R-Hamilton) provides the governor could appoint an inquiry board if labor and management could not agree. It also would prohibit lockouts or strikes during the inquiry. After such a board reported back to the governor, he could direct the attorney general to seek an injunction to prevent a service blackout until the dispute is settled.

Other Major Bills

Other major bills introduced included measures to:

Allow cities to levy an auto and truck license tax of their own.

Permit cities to impose a consumers' utility tax.

Reduce the life of a driver's license from three years to one and increase the fee to $2 a year instead of 75 cents for three years.

Boost the price of auto license tags from $10 to $15.

Require a county manager in counties with more than 500,000 population together with a seven-member board of county commissioners.

Would Relieve Restaurants

Exempt food served in restaurants from the state sales tax.

Require deduction of supplemental private unemployment benefits from state unemployment compensation.

Increase unemployment compensation benefits $5 for the individual, raise dependency allowances from $6 to $12 a week and lengthen the period of payments from 26 to 39 weeks.

Set up the State Board of Education as a nine-member appointed board instead of a 23-member elected board

Require municipal annexation petitions to carry names representing a majority of real property valuation in the area involved.

Require that school districts shall receive no less in state subsidy than they did in 1955 if their attendance has dropped by no more than 5 per cent.

Make persons serving life for second-degree murder eligible for parole after 20 years instead of 10.

Wipe out the 20 per cent bonus on civil service examinations for veterans of the Spanish-American War.

Would Boost Patrol

Increase the strength of the State Highway Patrol by 75 men.

Order a survey of the state's safety education program with an appropriation of $163,000

Make closing hours of liquor spots on Election Day conform exactly with the hours the polls are open.

Distribute the state school subsidy on a countywide basis

Levy a three per cent tax on hotels, apartments and tourist rooms.

Half Holiday

Require non collusion affidavits from the state to township levels on public contracts.

Authorize cities to sell housing authority projects to highest bidder

Ban flasher lights except to indicate highway hazards

Create municipal court in Belpre, Washington County.

Cut work week for city police from 48 to 40 hours.

'Flat' Distribution Opposed

Eliminate the "flat distribution" to all school districts under the school subsidy program and to distribute state aid countywide.

These Were Grown Men

In the accumulating history of the Suez Canal, one of the most curious chapters is going to be the historians' report on sabotage by its owners and former protectors just before Christmas, 1956.

These were grown men — responsible leaders, all of them. The orders they gave to destroy an international waterway by sinking ships in it and wrecking bridges were methodical and designed to do the greatest possible damage to a waterway they valued highly and needed desperately.

It will have taken three months to reopen the canal for minimum use before the remainder of the sunken ships can be hoisted out of the channel by the end of March. It will have taken a large amount of money, most of it provided by U.S. taxpayers.

But more than anything else it will have taken more tolerance and patience than U.S. taxpayers can muster to put the sabotage of the Suez Canal in any better light than that of an act of wanton delinquency performed by grown men to spite one another. Whether they were Egyptians, Britons, Frenchmen or bore only the identity of unofficial vandals, they gave human reasoning power and civilization's elusive dignity as hard a kick in the pants as it has received since an Egyptian despot made a deal with European promoters to swap the strength and lives of his subjects for money, in order to dig the Suez Canal in the first place.

Mad as Whatters?

Bellevue Hospital psychiatrists have come up with the right diagnosis on the "mad bomber" who kept New York police hopping with 22 home-made bombs planted in 16 years.

This gets rid of the awkward possibility the psychiatrists might have concluded a man capable of playing pranks with live bombs was sane.

It leaves the possibility, however, that when the "mad bomber," now certified as "mad," stands trial for his antisocial behavior it will be excused somehow, or punishment will be mitigated, on the claim he did not know what he was doing; that he was irresponsible.

This is always a puzzler when it pops up in court, and the way things are going the day may come when mental aberrations will explain all the trouble people get into, such as parking in front of fireplugs, looting the cash box to bet on horse races, burning down buildings to collect the insurance, con-gaming foolish old women and greedy old men running berserk in saloons.

Compulsions, that's what they are. We're all mad as hatters, who were not really mad but sick from the dust they breathed while working with felt and therefore not responsible for their behavior.

Our Favorite Contraption

Boating enthusiasm is now at such a high pitch that boat trailers are as common as motorcycle sidecars in a former day.

Our favorite contraption, which was experimented with during the war and provided the locomotion recently for what otherwise would have been a dull travelogue in the Saturday Evening Post, would travel on land or water.

Leaving land to go into the water, its wheels would be retracted inside water-tight compartments, a propeller would pop out at the stern and away it would go, bounding over the main.

The idea becomes more feasible each year as auto models look more like boats and, conversely, as boats look more like automobiles. Ultimately, every family attuned to more gracious living will own such an amphibian conveyance, along with a highway cruiser, a midget runabout for that congested feeling and a "wagon" for going to stations, estates, picnics on beaches and general hauling.

The four-car garage will be a standard fixture and Detroit will be covered from Pontiac to Toledo and from Grosse Point to Ann Arbor with rose-colored glasses. We can hardly wait.

Naismith Plus

It has been another successful basketball season. It will continue to be so until the last whistle has been tooted and basketball players are free to grow another two inches without interruption.

This matter of growth is one of two things about basketball at the end of another season which will bear off-season consideration. The other thing is whistle-tooting.

Basketball at and above a certain level—perhaps starting with college teams—will have to protect ordinary men from extraordinary ones eventually. It would be crazy to organize two teams, like varsity and 150-pound crews in shell-racing. But it would not be crazy to handicap a team one point for every inch over a collective height of 360 inches, which would be five six-foot players.

As to whistle-tooting, it finally has dawned on somebody besides the fans that a referee would need to be infallible to wield so much power safely. Sports Illustrated surmises the next basketball scandal will show what can happen in big-money games when gamblers can arrange in advance for a few extra blasts on a whistle.

Monopoly Unlimited

Senate Inquiry Reveals Need for Labor Laws

Monopoly and tyranny go hand in hand and the American people don't like either one, whether power is exercised by corporations or by labor unions.

Lawrence

Back in the 1890's the Congress of the United States, under the leadership of the Republican party, became enraged over the abuses of power by corporations and passed the Sherman anti-trust law, which has been on the statute books ever since.

But today there is another movement in its incipient stages which, if Congress is not intimidated, will result in the passage of an anti-monopoly law forbidding labor unions to monopolize job opportunities and otherwise to use their power in restraint of trade.

At first glance it might seem that the anti-trust laws should be sufficient to curb monopolies of all kinds, including labor unions, that restrain trade but the Supreme Court of the United States a few years ago, when it consisted almost entirely of New Deal appointees, ruled that labor unions are exempt from anti-trust laws unless specifically mentioned therein. No law correcting this omission has ever been passed.

Today a teamsters union is being revealed in congressional hearings as an example of how far-reaching monopoly power can be. It can, by means of campaign contributions, threaten to take over a city government and prevent law-enforcement machinery from prosecuting wrongdoers.

IT CAN ALLY itself with taverns and rackets in pinball machines carried on through union officials who lend funds to private exterprises and threaten to stop deliveries, for example, of beer and whisky unless tavern owners pay tribute to them. Here is a passage from the testimony:

"Mr. Kennedy (committee staff member): Could you tell the committee what was explained by Mr. Joe McLaughlin as to how this company was going to operate, and what the advantage of this company was going to be and what the advantage of being tied up with the teamsters was?

"Mr. Elkins (a witness): The advantage was simply that these other men wouldn't be let into the union until this Acme company got the best locations, and they would only let in the smaller operators that were buying equipment from Budge Wright. . . .

"Mr. Kennedy: Was it agreed that you were going to keep the other operators out, even if they applied for membership and the teamsters (union) would keep them out?

"Mr. Elkins: That is right. . . .

"Mr. Kennedy: And then they would send these teamsters business agents around and they would tell the owner of the cafe that they had better have a union machine or otherwise they were going to have pickets outside and not allow beer to be delivered?

"Mr. Elkins: That's correct."

EFFORTS ARE being made by apologists of the compulsory membership idea and the boycott doctrine to argue that the teamsters are an isolated case. Yet everybody knows that in nearly every city of any size there are analogous rackets. One union will deliver only up to a certain point, where another union will take over. Jurisdictional disputes are numerous.

America is suffering from many scandals growing out of this kind of monopoly power. It stems largely from the doctrine of compulsory unionization whereby the right to work is taken from an individual who conscientously objects to being a member of a union.

Originally, under the Wagner Labor Relations Act, passed during New Deal days, the states were deprived of the right to police their own labor unions but later the Taft - Hartley Act permitted the states to pass right-to-work laws.

The union leaders of America are almost unanimous in fighting the right - to - work laws of the states which, of course, are aimed at the monopoly power of unions. For when the power to keep a man out of a job, unless he agrees to join the union within 30 or 60 days after he is hired, is exercised throughout the country, it builds up a monopoly bigger in its influence than all the monopolies that corporations ever exercised in the past.

In these days, when there is much agitation about "civil rights," the so - called "liberals" stand foursquare behind the "closed shop" or the "union shop," as it is euphemistically called.

Only the true liberals in America are championing the individual's right to join or refrain from joining a union as he pleases. It needed the Senate committee's exposure of rackets to illustrate the evils of compulsory unionization.

IT IS, of course, true that most union leaders are honest and will have nothing to do with rackets but hardly any labor leader today, on the other hand, will concede the constitutional right of the citizen to a job if he is not a member of the union and doesn't want to be.

Congress has been delaying for a long time the imposition of a ban on the various "restraints of trade" utilized by labor unions in America today. If the present investigation only brings out some of the facts of monopoly power in trade unions, it will have served a useful purpose. For it is the concerted power of the unions which has made "collective bargaining" a farce.

Collective bludgeoning is a more realistic term in this era when strikes are too costly for employers to risk and hence prices go up and up as inflation goes on and on because the root of the trouble — monopoly power of unions — goes unrestricted.

Who Knows What Else?

By TRUMAN TWILL

Whenever a talking dog comes along there is a big stir which is ridiculous and reflects no credit on mankind.

It is supposed to be remarkable because a dog has learned how to utter a few sounds which resemble human speech, as if it were the last word in canine tricks.

Human vanity alone can explain why an upside-down construction is placed on something no more remarkable than a school child's ability to speak a few words in a foreign language.

Dogs did not have to wait for men to teach them to speak. They have their own language and communicate with one another as fluently as if they had studied it out of the same book.

They have done better than that; they were born knowing how to communicate. A litter of pups and their mother understand each other perfectly, which is more than can be said of some children and their mothers after a lifetime.

Dogs that grow up in close companionship keep in touch with each other 24 hours a day through sounds and inflections. Even dogs that never have exchanged two words understand each other, as anyone knows who has heard what happens when a TV canine says a few well chosen words and creates consternation in the canine division of its unseen audience.

The three dogs that live at the Twillery have distinctly different sounds for all of the following situations:

1 I am on the hot scent of a rabbit that recently has passed this way. Come a-running.

2. I am excavating something that may prove to be interesting.

3. I see an automobile approaching the house and strongly suggest we all charge forth furiously and scare the be-jeepers out of the occupants, who may be unfriendly.

4. It is time for tiffin, but the service leaves much to be desired.

5. The doorbell is ringing. We had better form a phalanx in the hall.

6. I am having burrs pulled out of my tail and my tender underbel- ly and want to form a pressure bloc.

7. That fellow who opens gates for us is putting on his outdoor clothes and may need help to tie his shoelaces.

8. It is urgently requested that the speaker be permitted to go see a dog about a man.

9. It is hereby reported that the mission was accomplished and your devoted servant wants to be readmitted to the comforts of inside living.

10. Something is going on here that is not easy to understand and all who hear this should rally around to ask questions of those in authority.

11. Go away; I'm resting.

12. Keep your teeth off my lunch.

Economy Jitters Afflict Congress

By Martin S. Hayden

A two billion dollar spending cut that will kill federal help for school construction and drastically cut foreign-aid spending appeared in the making today.

The cuts will be Congress' answer to nationwide protest over President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget.

While still fighting for the President's new 4½ billion dollar foreign aid request, Eisenhower capital lieutenants are today admitting the President will be "lucky" if he gets three billion.

For the two billion dollar, four-year Eisenhower program of school construction aid, the economy wave is a final straw for a measure already trouble-loaded with racial problems, traditional religious objection and a parliamentary situation that will let congressmen kill the plan while appearing as its staunch defenders.

Members from both parties believe the President's personal popularity is the only cork still bottling public wrath over taxes and that it will not protect spending congressmen who face the people next year.

BOTH DEMOCRATS and Republicans in increasing numbers are nodding agreement with economy talk ranging from Secretary George M. Humphrey's prediction of a possible "hair-curling depression" to the more acid comment of Sen. Harry F. Byrd that: "We're going to hell in a Cadillac."

Both parties want to blame the other.

Republican generalization that "it all started with Roosevelt" would minimize the book figures comparing the record per-capita Roosevelt expenditure in a peacetime year — $66.75 in 1936 — with the whopping $422 the proposed Eisenhower budget would cost each American.

Democrats slip in turn with their simple statement that the four budgets (fiscal 1955 through 1958) for which Mr. Eisenhower takes full responsibility top by 19 billion dollars the expenditures of the previous four years when Harry S. Truman had a Korean war to finance. Their mathematics omits that the 67.8 billion dollars expenditure for fiscal 1954 "credited" to Mr. Truman would have been 75.6 billion dollars had Mr. Eisenhower accepted the prepared budget his predecessor left behind him.

But both parties have to accept some "facts":

For the last four years Eisenhower budgets have risen steadily —from $64,570,000,000 in fiscal 1955, to $66,540,000,000 to $68,900,000,000 for this year, to the proposed $71,800,000,000 next year. Yet all that time the President has been under general Democratic fire for "economizing" at the expense of national defense, the farmers, resource development, school children, scientific advancement and other "essentials."

MAIN ITEMS that jumped the budget by $7,237,000,000 in the past five years demonstrate the dilemma of politicians called on to reverse the trend. Also they indicate why foreign aid and schools may be the big victims of the newly-popular economy ax.

Defense, accepted by almost everyone as necessary and daily more expensive, added 2½ billion dollars. The atomic energy race with Russia boosted that science and production item by 500 million dollars. Accumulating results of postwar generosity to the men who fought have jumped veteran benefits costs by 550 million dollars.

While it is true Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's cutback of farm price supports "saved" a billion dollars that was more than offset by the 1.2 billion now budgeted for "soil-bank" payments to farmers who leave land idle.

Natural resource development cost has risen by nearly 500 million dollars; general government costs have gone up 250 million chiefly to keep federal pay in line with private employment rates

Finally, interest on the debt is up by 900 million dollars a year.

These are the big items which (like the debt) cannot be cut, or (like benefits for veterans, farmers, resource developers, etc.) cannot be cut by congressmen who want to continue in office.

Foreign aid is the biggest item outside that "necessity" catalogue. With not directly benefited voters supporting it, the singling of the foreign expenditures for major meat-ax treatment was symbolized in the "great debate" over "saving" 200 million dollars by denying President Eisenhower's request for free authority to spend that sum on Middle Eastern economic help.

Actually, the questioned sum was appropriated and authorized by Congress a year ago. The only question is whether the President shall use it as he sees fit in the troubled Middle East.

THE ANNOUNCED support for Senators Byrd and Richard Russell in their effort to defeat it on a straight "economy" line has been a warning of what is to come when new aid fund requests come up.

Saving the school bill will be even more complicated.

As Rep. Adam Clayton Powell opposes its passage without specific blocking of aid to segregated southern schools, so do many Dixiecrats oppose it on the ground that the President already has executive authority to withhold the money and club them into integration submission.

Also there is traditional school aid opposition from religious groups fearful that parochial schools will not be able to raise the cash to compete with Washington-aided public schools.

Finally, there is parliamentary division between Eisenhower men backing his plan for aid on the basis of need and more-generous Democrats who want a bigger bill that would assist rich states and poor ones alike on the basis of school population.

The tangle — religious, parliamentary and philosophical — helps the economizers. It gives the individual congressman an "out," a chance to stand on a principle he knows is lost and thus cut school aid from the budget while professing to be for it.

Senior Achievements

By WILLIAM RAPP

CHICAGO

Men and women who once fretted in enforced retirement are finding profit for themselves and for a variety of businesses through Senior Achievement, Inc , a unique industry - financed pilot program now completing its successful first year here

Senior Achievement finds piece work for retired technicians, supplies men and women for white collar jobs and even manufactures articles of its own design. Earnings are limited to $100 a month, permitting workers to maintain Social Security eligibility Wages are paid to Senior Achievement, which in turn pays the worker's salary and takes care of the taxes, compensation and other deductions bothersome to management.

Started with the modest sum of $50,000 in grants from firms such as General Motors, Marshall Field and from foundations supported by Sears Roebuck and Inland Steel, Senior Achievement a year ago opened an office and workshop in the downtown Loop district.

The first public announcement brought more than 400 eager retirees with experience and skills in 76 occupations. Without special promotion, the number of older people registered with Senior Achievement has now passed the 1,000 mark.

In its search for job opportunities, the organization has gone into subcontracting. specializing in "nuisance" items which general industry finds uneconomical to manufacture. It has also taken on assembly work and the packaging of food and other items.

When these sources were insufficient to provide jobs for the machinists, sewing machine operators, clerks and draftsmen registered with Senior Achievement, it began manufacturing tie racks, TV foot rests, and toys. General Motors and the Teletype Corporation have found it profitable to have elder draftsmen put the finishing touches on machine and other design blueprints.

Senior Achievements also supplies receptionists, telephone operators, clerks, typists and other office help for a variety of firms such as Morris Investments, a busy LaSalle St. brokerage house, where an 81-year-old former department store owner keeps active and happy as a receptionist.

Senior Achievement is completely non-profit. Registrants pay nothing for listing their skills and pay only an annual membership fee of $2 after they receive work. David E. Sonquist, a director of older adult programs for the YMCA in Chicago, who organized Senior Achievement and has remained its guiding spirit, estimates that after the first three years the project will be able to stand on its own feet.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Portrait for Today

"What's with the economic situation?" This is the question beginning to bother Mr. and Mrs. America, doing their worrying in gleaming new autos and lolling on tropical beach rafts and in cabanas. Everybody is registering concern while living the life of Riley. And Riley is performing in economic Technicolor.

John Q. Citizen lets out a shout of "We must guard against those high budgets" while he shoots the works, forgets to balance his check book, takes a trip to a de luxe winter resort and votes for another super highway.

He cries, "Government spending should be cut," in one breath and in the next demands a federal appropriation for a new white beach within easy reach of his summer cottage, and governmental aid for public fishing piers.

HE NEVER SEEMED SILLIER as he looks for pie in the sky while professing to think Washington should get back to fundamentals. He asks, "Do you think we will have inflation?" while paying four times the normal price for haircuts, cocktails, undershirts, gasoline and housing needs.

He can inquire, "I wonder if the value of the dollar is dropping too far?" while paying his doctor $5 a visit, inspecting a new dreamhouse at $32,500 and ordering a fresh set of whitewall tires regardless of cost.

He can ask, "Is there danger ahead?" while approaching Niagara Falls in a leaky barrel; and sneer at a caution sign crossing a railroad track backwards on roller skates.

"WHY DOESN'T IKE take a firm step for less spending?" he asks even as he looks at de luxe car models and writes the boat broker for a list of bargain yachts.

He reads Secretary Humphrey is warning about the danger of a hair curling depression and thinks he is protecting himself against it by buying a wig on time payments.

HE KNOWS HIS RETIREMENT money is getting closer and closer to chicken feed but goes on hoping for the best as he plays dollar poker, makes a down payment on a two-car garage and plays the $5 mutuals.

He sees his $20,000 life insurance sink to a value of about $9,850 but yawns openly when anybody starts talking about a screwball economy. He knows Uncle Sam's national debt "knocks your eye out," but thinks the danger can be averted if he wears blinkers.

He is fully aware of the fact that each week finds him down to hardpan with 26 more payments before he will own half his belongings outright, but he thinks the way to meet the situation is to take more sleeping pills.

HE IS SURE THAT to get out of the hole he is in he would need a troupe of magicians, an inheritance and a couple of uranium mines, but he soothes himself by subscribing to a belief that "Elementary Arithmetic" and "Simplified Bookkeeping" can best be understood by reading "Alice in Wonderland." He has to be fed his horse-sense intraveneously. But he seems happy. And his expression registers, "Do Not Disturb."

JIMMY STEWART is not in the least like "Slim" Lindbergh in looks or manner, but who in Hollywood is? . . . Lindy was a gangling, shy, blond kid—a character out of a legend—when he made the first trans-Atlantic flight in a one-motored "boxkite," and the pattern is beyond duplication.

Dave Beck, the Teamsters Union boss, is the first man to cross the ocean in a covered wagon. . . Mr. Beck could sing an old favorite, "Put on your old gray bonnet with the blue ribbon on it and we'll hitch old Dobbin to the shay: we will drive right steady when we're good and ready to McClellan's quizzing day."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — New York City police were assigned to guard all subway stations in an attempt to divert a reported plot to blow up the subway system.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was selected to head the transportation division of the proposed war council, to be composed of President Wilson, members of his cabinet, military men and a large number of railroad officials, industrial and scientific experts.

A national monument to William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," was to be built on Lookout Mountain 2,000 feet above Denver, Colo.

20 YEARS AGO — A Mount Gilead man, Dr. Edward S. Chapman, was chosen to direct area Boy Scouts at the national jamboree scheduled for June 30—July 9 in Washington, D.C. More than 30 scouts from the Harding area were expected to attend the nation-wide gathering.

A former Marion man, James Lewis Morrill, was one of two men prominently mentioned as possible successor to Prersident George Rightmire of Ohio State University. Mr. Morrill was then serving as vice president of the university, a post he had held since 1930.

Marie Wilson, 20, blond film comedienne, was critically injured in a three-car accident which left her with a skull fracture and possible internal injuries in California.

An Alton, Ill., youth continued to amaze modern medical science with his phenomenal growth. At the age of 19 he was eight feet, six inches tall and weighed 435 pounds. He reportedly was still growing and some scientists believed he might reach the all-time record of nine feet. Coming from a family of average-sized persons, he had appeared normal in size at birth, weighing 8½ pounds.

10 YEARS AGO — At the first report meeting of a Red Cross campaign to raise $27,000, a total of $7,967 had been contributed or pledged.

A new peak in juvenile delinquency was reached in Marion when nine teen-age boys faced charges of theft. The increase in youthful offenders was attributed to the forming of gangs.

Six GI's and their families moved into dwellings at the veterans' housing project near Lincoln Park. They were the first of 50 which were to be accommodated at the settlement.

Practice Torpedo Balks, Follows Straight Course

KEYPORT, Wash. (AP)—A practice torpedo with an urge to travel gave Navy officials more than their quota of gray hairs.

The practice torpedo, in theory, is supposed to streak for the target, then veer off and run in circles until it's picked up.

This torpedo kept right on going onto the beach and into the hull of a surplus, 40-foot landing craft being repaired by James Colby of Gilbertson.

The landing craft suffered extensive damage. The chargeless torpedo sustained a couple of small dents in its hard head.

Used To Be Simple

DETROIT (AP)—If you see Percy Haver out on the ice of one of Michigan's lakes, looking for fish with a hand mirror, he's got good reason. It's scientific ice fishing, he explains. You use the mirror to reflect light through a small hole in the ice to the bottom. If you can see vegetation, it's a likely place to fish.

Mrs. Louis T. Shonk

Before her marriage Mrs. Shonk was Miss Vella Lucy Wolfe.

Weddings

The wedding of Miss Vella Lucy Wolfe and Louis Thief Shonk took place Monday, Feb. 25, in the First Church of God. Rev. Kenneth Shook officiated for the single ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Wolfe of near Morral and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Orville Shonk of 164 Dix Ave. and the late Mr. Shonk.

For her wedding, the bride chose a navy rayon satin princess-style dress with pink collar and cuffs. Her pink pearls were a gift from the bridegroom and she wore a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Hamm, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the attendants.

They are making their home at 767 W. Center St. The bride was graduated from the Pleasant High School. The bridegroom is a guard at the Marion Engineer Depot.

Alleged Bucyrus Hotel Thief Caught in Florida

BUCYRUS — Police here have been notified that a 15-year-old boy, wanted here for the theft of $50 from a cash register at the Weaver Hotel, has been apprehended in Hollywood, Fla.

The youth will be turned over to Darke County authorities at Greenville and probably be returned to the Dayton State Hospital where he had been a patient, according to word Bucyrus police received from Greenville.

No information was available here regarding circumstances concerning his arrest in Florida. The youth had registered under a false name at the Weaver Hotel. He allegedly snatched the money on Feb. 27 while he and a desk clerk, Jasper Cooper, were discussing old coins. He then fled through the hotel's main entrance.

Have Perspiration Stains Ever Ruined Your Dress?

New ARRID with Perstop* Stops Perspiration Stains and Odor

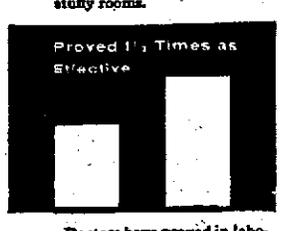
DRAMATIC STEAMBATH TEST SHOWS HOW

1 ARRID with Perstop* was rubbed into this woman's forehead. Then she was put into a steambath at 104°. Fifteen minutes later ...

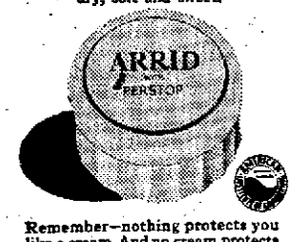
2 ... she was dripping with perspiration—but ARRID kept her forehead dry. ARRID will do the same for your underarms, too.

3 Just rub ARRID in—rub perspiration and odor out. When the cream vanishes you know you're safe, even in hot, stuffy rooms.

4 ARRID with Perstop*, used daily, keeps your clothes safe from ugly perspiration stains, keeps your underarms dry, soft and sweet.



5 Doctors have proved in laboratory tests that ARRID with Perstop* is 1½ times as effective as all leading deodorants tested against perspiration and odor.



Remember—nothing protects you like a cream. And no cream protects you like ARRID. Don't be half safe. Be completely safe. Use ARRID to be sure. 43¢ plus tax.

Galion Council Receives Plan For Pay Hikes

Mayor, Lawmakers Would Get Increases Starting in January

GALION — The introduction of two city ordinances raising the salaries of the mayor and members of Council were presented to Council Tuesday night for consideration. They were referred to the claims and finance committee of council.

The mayor's salary, to become effective Jan. 1, 1958, would be raised to $7,200, with bond fixed at $10,000. The ordinance provides that the mayor's job would be on a full-time basis at this salary.

The second ordinance, to hike the pay of city councilmen $600 a year effective Jan. 1, 1958, also was referred to the claims and finance committee for investigation.

Announces Resignation

Both ordinances were presented by Charles D. Lauer, simultaneously with the announcement by him of his resignation as councilman-at-large. Council accepted the resignation with regret. They will elect a new councilman to fill the vacancy at the next meeting.

Council adopted a resolution that Senate Bill No. 51 should not be passed because it would handicap city officials in efforts for efficient and good government, and would increase administrative costs and slow up legislation. The resolution concerns the establishment of a code of administrative procedure for all municipal corporations.

Another resolution adopted by council set up the procedure to construct a storm sewer from the catch basin at the east end of Center St. south on Clymer Ave. to Mackey St. and southwesterly to Euclid St.

Council was advised of the unsafe condition of the bridge on the access road to the Galion sewage disposal plant by the engineering firm of Shaffer, Parrett and Associates following visual inspection on Feb. 19, 1957. The letter stated that the bridge is unsafe for any load. Mayor Francis C. Schalip stated that the bridge has been shut off since its condition has been known. Estimates for repair, are being received, Service Director Floyd Steffee explained.

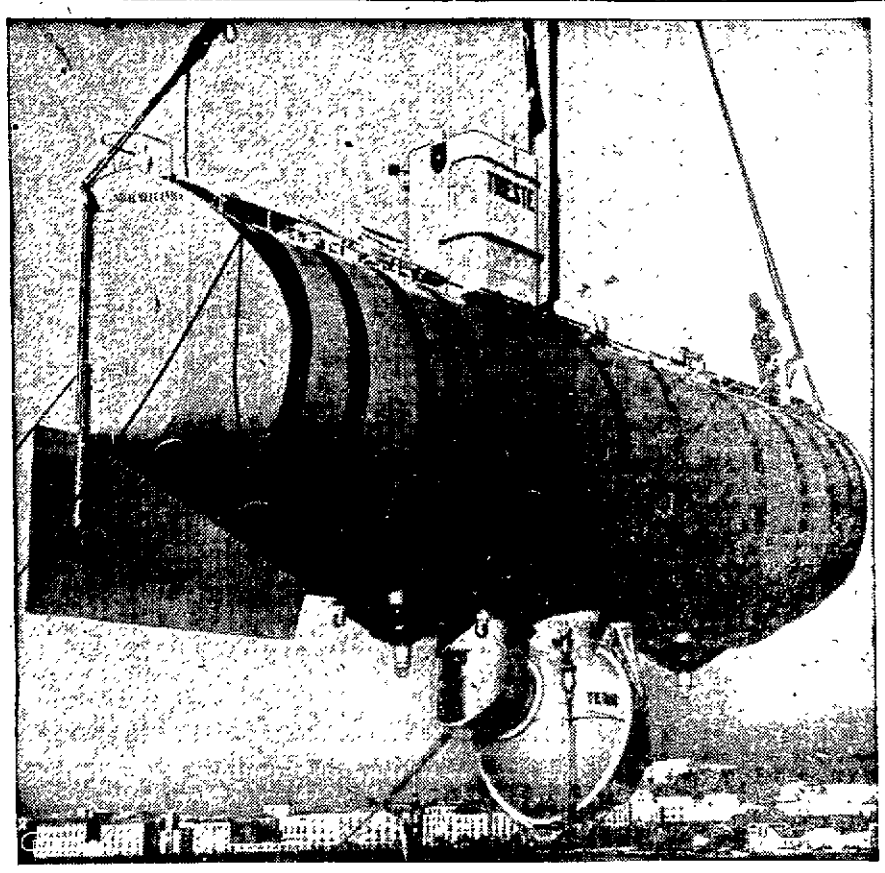
Seek New Sewer

Council also received a communication from a majority of property owners in the area asking that the city procede at once with construction of the 17th district trunk sewer. The request was referred to committee.

The amending ordinance on electric water heater rates was given second reading.

Councilman William Amick asked that council give consideration to the matter of whether or not the city will go on fast time if surrounding cities adopt this time. He said several interested citizens had approached him about this.

The city solicitor, Edward Jones, read a letter from the New York Central Railroad that the railroad will install new flashers, starting immediately, in compliance with the PUC order and Supreme Court ruling. Drawings were enclosed with the letter. The flashers are to be located at the Sherman St. and Pershing St. crossings.



IT'S GOING TO TAKE SOME DIVES FOR THE NAVY. It's a submersible craft called a Bathyscaphe, shown at a Mediterranean port. Designers Auguste Piccard and son Jacques are under contract to make a series of dives deep in the Mediterranean this summer for the Office of U. S. Naval Research.

Galionite Resigns Job as Councilman

GALION — The resignation of Charles D. Lauer, councilman-at-large, effective today, received at Tuesday night's meeting of City Council brings to a close a long term of service in public life.

Mr. Lauer began his service as a city councilman with one term as First Ward councilman, 1954-1955, and then was elected to the present unfinished term. Prior to his service as a lawmaker, he was a patrolmen in the Galion police department from 1940 to 1950 and captain of the department from 1943 to 1950. He resigned the position in 1950 to enter the business field and has been associated with the Tuxedo Feed store.

In a statement today, Mr. Lauer said he plans to give full-time to business interests.

Mr. Lauer also served for several years as chairman of the Democratic party in Galion.

Price Support Aid Could Be Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson is planning to withhold price support aid on 1957 crop corn produced on farms that do not cooperate with the federal planting allotment program, unless grain prices dip before harvest.

Last year, in a move to stabilize prices, Benson offered $1.25 a bushel on such corn, or 25 cents less than for corn produced under acreage allotments. The allotment program is designed to prevent overproduction.

In outlining Benson's policy for this year, assistants said he believes corn prices will hold up fairly well without supports on the non-compliance corn.

Sunday School Classes Attend Revival Service

Mary Martha and Men's and Women's Bible Classes attended services at Calvary EUB Church Tuesday night in a body. Tonight will be Sunday School night with all departments, beginning with the Intermediates, given special recognition.

The featured music Tuesday night included the specially illustrated numbers by the song evangelist and children's worker, Miss Gertrude Cooper of Findlay, "Gethsemane" and "The Center of His Will." Prayer was by the pastor, Rev. C. R. Wendell.

In his message, the evangelist, Rev. Walter Adams of Shelby, emphasized the importance of the "fullness of the Holy Spirit" within man's heart and life and he called for courage in being a witness for Christ and His teachings to the world. He urged the acceptance of the spirit of God "in order that we may have a passion for dying souls." Each afternoon at 3:45 children's meetings are held in the Junior Room at the church. The evening services are at 7:30

Could Avert Jams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Motor traffic jams may be averted in the future by electronic devices that advise drivers of road conditions ahead. H. A. Radzikowski of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, said a tone radio system could be installed along highways to warn cars of accidents ahead and guide drivers through fog.

A state aerial fish planting program in 1956 distributed 6,941,879 trout among 746 lakes in California at a cost of 89 cents per thousand fish.

State Rewrites Its Specifications on Contract for Tires

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Highway Department announced today it will open bids at 11 a.m. Monday, March 18, for purchase of tires for which previous bids were rejected.

The department said the invitation for the bids carries new specifications and has been mailed to all those who entered the other bids.

Recently, the department rejected all bids on about $200,000 worth of tires. The apparent low bidder was Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. of Findlay, Ohio. Its bid was several dollars per tire lower than other bidders.

Then department officials decided a more definite and precise set of specifications should have been used for the bids, and ordered them all thrown out.

The new specifications are based upon those developed by the U.S. Bureau of Standards for purchase of tires by the Armed Forces.

May Be Surplus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill said Tuesday he is investigating the possibility some highway machinery purchased during the administration of former Gov. Frank J. Lausche may have created a surplus of equipment in the Ohio Highway Department.

At the same time, he said the department will take "closer looks" at contract specifications so that they do not favor one firm over another.

Group Attends State Meeting Of Methodists

Marion and county Methodists were among 4,000 from throughout the state attending the denomination's Ohio Area Evangelistic Concern rally in Columbus Tuesday. Robert F. Williams of Epworth Church here took part in the closing service of consecration conducted by Bishop Hazen G. Werner, area head. He appeared on the platform of Veterans Memorial Auditorium as the Lima District lay partner with the district superintendent, Rev. Harrold Kellogg. They were among lay representatives and superintendents of 19 Methodist districts in Ohio.

The evangelistic outreach was outlined by a panel of leaders at the morning session with suggestions for training workers in visitation of homes in the communities in which the churches wish to reach the unchurched. There will be special services in each church March 10-16 and the effort will be climaxed with Palm Sunday and Easter reception of new members.

Branch Rickey of baseball fame was the morning speaker. His place as a prominent layman and leader in the Christian Fellowship of Athletes was praised. Using the New Testament story of Zaccheus and his great desire to see Christ, he said men today are seeking to know who Christ is and from his sports experiences he drew comparisons in the spiritual field of faith as a part of vital daily living.

Mayor H. Roe Bartle of Kansas City, also a prominent layman, told the audience in the afternoon the "first place to start building a better community is the church." His principal theme was to urge the Christian to "stand up and be counted" in regard to religion. He said politics can be carried on with Christian principles and that only the teachings of Christ, chief among which is to love one's neighbor enough to help him to these beliefs, will keep Americans the greatest people in the world. The consecration service following was concluded with the entire audience led in singing the Malotte "Lord's Prayer."

Portions of the program will be heard on radio broadcasts tonight at 6:15 over Station WRFD, Worthington and at 8:30 over Station WLW, Cincinnati.

Symphony Group Planned for City

The possibility of establishing a Marion civic symphony orchestra is being investigated by a music board of six persons who are members of the Adult Education sponsored orchestra course.

The group presently is mapping out plans for a membership campaign to increase instrumentation beyond the orchestral nucleus formed by the class.

A request for extended use of Harding High School music and practice room facilities for the month of April has been directed to Emil J. Lisak, Adult Education program director, and will be brought before the Board of Education at its monthly meeting Monday night.

The concluding date of the Adult Education program under which the orchestra now is functioning is the last week ii March.

Members of the orchestra board are Homer Huffman, conductor of the orchestra; Richard Myers, Ted Snow, Mrs. Virginia Stafford, Gary Dix and Miss June Roseberry.

IN EFFECT NEXT YEAR

The new pay schedule in the Green Camp School goes into effect with the 1957-58 school year, instead of the 1958-59 year, as reported Tuesday. In addition, the schedule is based on training instead of experience.

Forger Didn't Know Victim Couldn't Write

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—When James Donald Foster got his hands on another person's $45 old age assistance check, it appeared crime would pay.

Foster, 31, forged the endorsement of Mrs. Annie Barnett to whom the check had been issued, re-endorsed it with his own name and cashed it with ease at a local tavern.

But when the cancelled check was returned to Columbus, official eyebrows shot skyhigh to see the name "Annie Barnett" legibly written on it.

Mrs. Barnett had always endorsed her checks with an "X".

Foster pleaded innocent to a forgery charge Thursday and was sentenced to 1-20 years in the penitentiary. Assistant Prosecutor Frazier Reams Jr. said Foster claimed a woman he didn't know gave him the check.

Man Arrested Here

Hosea Atkinson, 42, of St. Louis, Mo. was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Mariron police on a charge of being a suspicious person. He was to appear in Municipal Court today.

Wooster Notes Farm Station's 75th Birthday

Steady Growth Seen Since Organization's Unpretentious Origin

Although the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station is observing its diamond jubilee anniversary this year, few farmers probably know much of its 75-year history.

A review of early records of the station reveals that the law establishing the important facility was passed in 1882. It was at a time when only four other states had made provision for setting up similar research units.

At the outset the station was located in Columbus, where Ohio State University made available 30 acres adjacent to its campus to accommodate field experimentalists. A biologist, superintendent of field experiments, a chemist and a part-time director comprised the station's entire complement.

First Directors Named

Six years later, however, with the passage of the Hatch Act, each state received $15,000 a year to carry on experimental work and the station undertook to broaden its scope of activities. Subsequently, Charles E. Thorne, a professor of agriculture and a graduate of Antioch College, was made its full-time director.

With Columbus rapidly increasing in size, the problem of enough space with which to carry on operations became an acute one for the station. At length, after obtaining authority from the Ohio state legislature, the station's board of control purchased some 452 acres of land south of Wooster in Wayne County. The year was then 1892.

Progress from that point was was steady and rapid. In 1894 the present beef cattle barn was constructed, the first large building on the new station site. Two years later — 1896 — the administration building became a reality. With that, the building program was away to a start which has resulted in today's well-housed and equipped station.

Bulletins Start

Shortly after its transplantation to Wooster, the station, in accordance with a federal legal provision, began to issue bulletins on its new research findings. Not until 1902, however, did it operate its own printshop. Until 1916, the preparations of all bulletins was accomplished solely by the printer, who first consulted with the station's director and several department heads.

In 1916 an editor first joined the station's staff. He was Leo L. Rummell, now director of the station, then a recent graduate of OSU. His first publication, known as the Monthly Bulletin, is now the Ohio Home and Farm Research.

C. G. Williams, head of the agronomy department, was named director of the station in 1922, when Mr. Thorne retired. During Mr. Williams' tenure in office, the station undertook a new emphasis on wheat breeding research and forestry.

In 1947, Mr. Rummell was appointed both director of the station and dean of Ohio State University's college of agriculture. With that, the present program of expansion and cooperation began and, with 75 years of progress already gone by, plans are on the next 75 to come, as farmers throughout the state continue to benefit from experiments and research as carried on at the Wooster station.

Morrow Men Win At Barrow Show

Two Morrow County vocational-agriculture teachers took top honors at the 1957 Ohio Spring Barrow Show on London's Madison County fairgrounds in late February.

Lawton McClintock of Cardington, and Stark Beard of Mount Gilead, showed a 220-pound Berkshire to the show's grand championship. In addition, they showed the grand champion pen of three barrows, also Berkshires.

Harold Yake & Sons, Berkshire breeders of near Cardington, exhibited the top pen of 10 barrows. A Vandalia breeder had the reserve pen of 10.

More than 400 barrows competed for top awards, according to Herb Barnes, Ohio State University extension swine specialist. The grand champion barrow sold for $75 a hundred, while a total of 323 barrows went for an average of $19.38 a hundred, approximately $2 a hundred over the current market.

No Slackers Here

Multiple births are nothing to shout about in sheep flocks. However, A. G. Lecrone, farming near Broken Sword in Crawford County, has had 11 ewes give birth to a total of 24 lambs this spring. One had quadruplets, another triplets, besides the eight sets of twins. What's more, 17 lambs are still living.

Environment Is Factor

County Agent Discusses Antibiotic Feed Practice

The widespread use of antibiotics in animal feeds today is a good example of the rapidity with which feed men and livestock raisers are putting into practice the results of research carried out at the Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station and other research centers. Such is the opinion of Ellwood Parrott, Marion County extension director.

Mr. Parrott points out that a rather extensive use is being made today of such antibiotics as aureomycin, terramycin, streptomycin, bacitracin and penicillin. Says the extensionist: "Considerable variations exist in the response obtained by various workers." He adds, however, that much of the confusion presently existing may stem from the fact that animal scientists don't know exactly what causes antibiotics to produce growth response.

Available evidence indicates that the growth response is brought about through the action of antibiotics on the intestinal microorganisms, Mr. Parrott declares. This, he suggests, may help explain the failure to obtain a response when animals are raised in sanitary or sterile environments.

The effect of antibiotics could be exerted in several ways, the extension director points out. They could 1) depress the growth of intestinal organisms that compete with the host for various nutrients, 2) eliminate known disease-causing organisms, 3) eliminate bacteria which produce toxins that interfere with growth, and 4) encourage the growth of organisms that synthesize known or unidentified nutrients.

Adds Mr. Parrott: "It is difficult, as a result of the above premises, to distinguish between the therapeutic and nutrient effect of growth response." He notes that the increase in body size of animals fed antibiotics appears to be due largely to an increase in body fat, rather than to more muscle and skeletal growth.

The degree of response appears to be influenced by certain dietary factors, the degree of exposure to infectious diseases, the level of antibiotics fed, and the age of the animal concerned. The response to antibiotic feeding appears to be the most pronounced in the early part of the animal's life.

Concludes the county agent: "It appears that the feeding of certain antibiotics to farm animals is beneficial, if the feeding is done under ordinary farm conditions. If, however, strict sanitary conditions are maintained, supplemental antibiotic feeding may result in little or no additional monetary return."

Area's Holsteins Finish Milk, Butterfat Records

Production records were recently completed by three registered Holstein cows owned by Marion area farmers, according to the herd improvement registry of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Lafar Miss Ohio, owned by Richard E. Lawrence of near Marion, produced 17,075 pounds of milk, 592 pounds of butterfat as a seven-year-old. The cow was milked twice a day on a 317-day schedule.

B Mar R A S Pride, owned by Ridgeway's Billie Wingfield, produced 12,701 pounds of milk and 516 pounds of butterfat as a two-year-old. B Mar was on a 365-day two-times-a-day milking schedule.

Midwood Ormsby Sensation Fan, registered milker on the Lewis Gottfried Jr. farm of near Upper Sandusky, pailed 19,047 pounds of milk and 623 pounds of butterfat over a 365-day period. She was milked twice a day and was six years old when the record was completed.

Testing and weighing was supervised by Ohio State University.

Grand Champion Steer To Make Stop in Marion

Marion and area farmers will have a chance next Thursday to see the Ohio-bred grand champion of the 1956 International Livestock Exposition, when P S Troubador, the Shorthorn steer that took the prize, will be exhibited in Marion at the Coliseum.

Bred on a farm near Cleveland, Troubadour was shown at the International by Penn State University, who sold him after the show for a record $20.50 a pound to a West Virginia hotel man.

Layoff at Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Layoff of 500 employes due to "cutbacks in customer requirements" was announced Tuesday by Packard Electric Division of General Motors, Warren's largest employer.

Marion County 4-H Club Cites Advancements

Morral-Grand Prairie Group Is Now in 5th Year of Organization

This being National 4-H Week, the Morral-Grand Prairie Farmerettes 4-H Club members have taken it upon themselves to look back on some of the events that led to their present-day status in Marion County.

The early record shows that the club was, at its beginning in 1952, called the Morral Farmerettes. It was the first girls' club organized in the county and was comprised by the following members: May Ann Forry, Judy Campbell, Marjorie Hinamon, Fairy Atha, Pat Baker, Marjorie Murphy, Kate Taylor, Marie Arnold and Mary Jane Haner. The adviser was, as now, Carol Harriman.

One of the first projects of the club was to erect a flag pole and present a flag to the Morral School. Proceeds from an ice cream social and bake sale made that project possible.

Projects Begin

In 1953, with Mrs. Jane Fogle assisting, the club planted flowers and shrubbery around the Methodist and Baptist Churches in Morral. The club numbered 13 members, with Jeanne Parker, Ruth Bosely, Jane Loudenslager, Phyllis Smith, Gail Craycraft and Kay Murphy new members.

By 1954 the girls of Grand Prairie School voiced a desire to join the group and the club was forthwith known as it is today —the Morral-Grand Prairie Farmerettes. The new girls included Nancy Moreland, Mary Kay Hinamon, Ruthella Foos, Linda Klatt, Sue Ann Bibler and Janet Hinamon. Kirk Moreland of Grand Prairie joined Carol Harriman as advisers of the club. A fireplace for the Morral Park was the year's project. A camping trip to Lake Erie climaxed the season's activities.

Donations Made

In 1955 the club donated $200 to the new wing of the Marion County Children's Home and adapted a "clover day tag sale" as a means of raising money. Enrollment at year's end was 19 members.

Last year the group purchased a TV set for the Marion County Home residents and entered a float in the county fair that captured a third-place ribbon.

Now in their sixth year of operation, the club is a strong and well-organized unit. Still under the advisorship of Miss Harriman and Mr. Moreland, the club numbers 16 active members. Officers include the following: Phyllis Houk, president; Gail Craycraft, vice president; Linda Klatt, secretary; Sandra Smith, treasurer; Kay Murphy, reporter; Linda Borland and Karen Borland, recreation leaders and Nancy Moreland, health and safety. Other members are Jane Hamilton, Mary Kay Hinamon, Ann Kimball, Barbara Frayer, Claudia Brady, June Klatt and Linda Smith.

A prime example of one of the county's fine youth groups, the Morral-Grand Prairie Farmerettes 4-H Club is looking forward this year to even bigger and better projects and programs.

Appointee Confirmed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The state Senate Tuesday confirmed the appointment of William L. Batt Jr., director of the Toledo, Ohio, Industrial Development Corp., as secretary of labor and industry.

Annual Report Of Producers Cites Progress

A total of 25,001 consignments of livestock by 5,899 patrons were made to the Marion Producers Livestock Association in 1956, according to a report released at the association's annual sub - district advisory committee meeting in Smithville recently. The consignments represented a livestock valuation of $7,683,522.

The report indicated that 28,547 head of cattle, 89,669 head of hogs, 59,096 head of sheep and 9,976 head of calves passed through the market during 1956, an overall increase of nine per cent over 1955.

The reorganization of the advisory board at the meeting resulted in the following new 1957 officers elected: Vernon Beaver, chairman; Robert Isler, vice chairman; and James R. Smoot, secretary. Harold Miller of Mount Vernon, replaced Marion's Walter Mautz as chairman of the northeastern Ohio sub-district advisory committee.

The 1957 advisory board of the Marion branch of the Producers Association consists of Mr. Beaver, Mr. Isler, Kensel Clutter and Ed Schweinfurth. New members to the group include Leroy Hinaman and William Trihaft. Paul Almendinger and John Hite were re-elected.

"Jim" Smoot is presently in his fifth year as manager of the local stockyards.

Barrow Show Winner Makes High Dress-Out

The winner, a 205-pound Duroc, dressed out to a carcass weight of 149 pounds, with a rail dressing percentage of 72.7 and a lean cut percentage of 57.6.

The reserve champion, a 200-pound Yorkshire, dressed out 70 per cent, with a 56.6 percentage of lean cuts. The top ten hogs in the carcass contest all showed a loin eye measurement of over four square inches and lean cuts ranged from 53.8 per cent to 57.6 per cent of the chilled carcass weight.

Livestock Talks Slated For Farm, Home Week

A highlight feature of Farm and Home Week, March 19, 20 and 21 on the campus of Ohio State University, will be talks on producing quality beef, meat and beef cattle research and discussions on commercial ewe flock production.

Afternoon sessions in Plumb Hall have been slated all three days of the event, with department members to give beef carcass cut-out demonstrations to emphasize their talks.

On Youth Day, March 21, problems confronted in fitting and showing hogs, beef cattle and sheep will be discussed. In addition, the university's department of horticulture plans 17 demonstrations for both home and commercial gardeners between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. March 19.

Guernsey Sire Is Sold

O. R. Reed, Delaware Guernsey breeder, has sold his registered herd sire, Villa-Way King Philosopher, to the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association, Inc., according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club. Villa is out of Villa-Way Phylis, who holds a production record of 9,131 pounds of milk, 489 pounds of fat for a 365-day milking period.

Galion Kiwanians See Printing Shop

GALION — A Galion printer, Milo Fisher, who started with one employe and himself in a business at the rear of his home May 7, 1942, Tuesday took fellow Kiwanis members through his present-day plant which now serves several towns in this area.

Mr. Fisher gave a short talk about the business at the luncheon-meeting at Hotel Talbott before taking the group through his plant. He said that he now employs 12 to 18 persons.

The Galion printer said that he plans to make future expansion in personnel and floor space. He also showed the group his line of office supplies.

At the Hotel, the group honored the birthdays of Wilfred Dickerson and Tom Noble.

Named to Angus Group

D. W. Hinamon & Sons, Marion Angus breeders, have been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, according to Frank Richards, secretary of the nationwide organization.

The Hinamons are among 11 purebred Angus breeders named to membership in the association from Ohio during February.

Beckel's Yorkshires Are Among First in County

Father-Son Partnership Has a Good Start in Hog-Raising Field

By ALLAN BOVEY

Time was when farmers went all out to put all the fat they could get on a hog bound for market But the emphasis now is on the bacon-type hog or lean meat carcass The nation's average consumer wants no part of paying for meat they cannot subsequently cook and consume

With this re emphasis on lean pork, many a Marion County farmer has altered his feeding program to accommodate the demand and, as a result, get the higher price for hogs at the packers

One of these is Richland Township's Wallace Beckel & Son, who raise blooded Yorkshire nogs on their 160-acre farm on County Road 153 The Beckels, a partnership since Wallace Jr graduated from Waldo High School last June are busily engaged in a program that all began when Wallace, under the tutelage of Dallas Cornett then vocational agriculture teacher at Waldo now at Pleasant, bought two Yorkshire gilts as an FFA project

TODAY, THE BECKELS are busy raising two litters of pigs a year from 15 sows, and have a flourishing business selling breeding stock to other farmers who have taken a liking to Yorkshire swine as the best example of what today's market demands

The Beckels are set up to raise approximately 250 hogs a year, using converted facilities for pens and keeping the hogs out of doors whenever the weather permits As one of the first extensive raisers of this breed of swine, the Beckels, father and son, consider their choice of breed a good one and are firmly convinced of the merits of their stock

Why did these farmers choose a breed of swine that, as yet, has not made much of a name for it self in this county? Why not go along with a Hampshire, a Duroc or a Berkshire, hogs that everyone knows about and which are quite common about the countryside? The Beckels are in agreement on the answer Says Wallace Jr · "We like their length, their ability to produce at least for us, slightly more than nine pigs per litter on an average and the leanness of their carcass when dressed out"

MRS. BECKEL CAN add a significant note to the claim that Yorkshires produce lean meat Says she "I used to have lard galore after a butchering In fact we often had to throw some out when the new was ready again Now, I have to buy additional fattening with which to cook and we slaughter four head a year"

Hogs are the primary enterprise on the Beckel farm now that Yorkshires have come into the picture There used to be some sheep and cattle, but it was apparent that the hogs would require all the time the two men could devote

The Beckel process of raising good hogs is no different than that practiced on many another farm in the county The sows are penned separately about four days prior to farrowing The main "farrowing house" on the Beckel farm is a converted hen house

Two weeks after the pigs are born they're introduced to a starting ration of pig pellets At five weeks they come off that diet and are put on a full feed of corn oats and supplement all ground together "We quit feeding shelled corn and supplement," Mr Beckel explains, "when it became apparent that all they wanted to do was make the supplement disappear"

"This way" he adds, "we can regulate the flow of supplement to them, and believe me that is one place where costs can get out of hand"

THE OATS ARE taken from the diet at 10 weeks of age and corn and supplement alone make up the feed from then on until market time The pigs are all vaccinated for cholera at six weeks of age

As things stand now, the Beckels expect their fattening hogs to be ready for market at the end of five months, "when they should weigh right at 225 pounds" Except for separating the boars at about three months of age, the Beckel plan calls for feeding the barrows and gilts together The boars, of course, are not fattened as quickly, since most breeders want sires "with a bit of gauntness"

The Beckel Yorkshires get all they want of an alfalfa - ladino - clover pasture during the warm months "After all" says Wallace, "pasture cuts down on their requirement of supplement and there again you have that cost problem to work with"

The Beckels do not plan to show their purebred swine at fairs or other shows "We just don't have the time to do so," they point out They also think the cost prohibitive unless one can become a consistent winner "We all know how many breeders get to that stage of the game," Wallace declares

WHAT IS THE outlook for the breeding business? Both these farmers think it is good Though they have had to cut their price on breeders considerably, in keeping with the decline in farm income both are confident that Yorkshires will continue to catch on and that more and more farmers in the county will be looking for good foundation stock

The Beckels are in the Yorkshire business for good Breeders of several types of hogs at one time, they are now sold on this long, lean, non-fat breed They are members of both the Ohio Yorkshire and the American Yorkshire Club 'We raise all our own feed, we believe wholeheartedly in the breed, and we have good stock to sell Under those circumstances we hope to keep our own Yorkshire business booming as well as to encourage their increased acceptance in the county," the Beckels declare

All considered, it is not at all unlikely that the Beckels will be as responsible as anyone for the continued raising of good hogs in Marion county, be they Yorkshires or otherwise

A YORKSHIRE SOW on the Beckel and Son farm sets up treats for at least eight new pigs Several more may be working the bottom 'chow line" Even if there were no more the Beckels would be satisfied, since farm economists figure that a sow that raises eight pigs is paying for her keep

Second Annual Feeders Banquet Set for LaRue

The second annual banquet of the Marion County Livestock Feeders Association will be held at 7 p m Wednesday, March 13, in the LaRue School according to Ellwood Parrott, county extension director

Featured speaker of the evening will be L L Rummell, dean of the college of agriculture at Ohio State University Dean Rummell will speak on the "Future of Agriculture in Ohio"

Tickets for the event are available from the extension office or any one of the directors of the sheep, swine or beef organizations, Mr Parrott reports

Annual Banquet Is Set

The annual Edison FFA Chapter's Parents Son banquet will be held Thursday night in the Edison School auditorium The dinner will be served at 6 30 p m, with a program to follow

W D Moore is chapter adviser and the school s vocational agriculture teacher Members of the committee in charge of the event include Gary Pangborn, chairman, and Robert Trout Jr Gary Bader George Johnson and James Bailey

The University of Pennsylvania teaches a course in Romany, the language of gypsies

Elected to Board

H D Heckathorn of Forest was elected to a three year term on the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association s board of directors, at the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in Columbus recently. Mr Heckatorn is one of eight directors of the group

Assemblymen Begin Task of Voting on Bills

New Records Set in Senate and House as Filing Period Closes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature did it again Tuesday night—set another new record for introduction of bills, that is.

Lawmakers practically emptied the wastebaskets in what looked from the sidelines like an effort to set another new record or bust.

When the 102nd General Assembly slammed the gates on further introduction of bills, the legislative hopper was pilling over with 1,374 measures. The previous record of 1,355 was set in 1955.

Tops 1956 by 19

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem wagged his head in amused wonderment as senators sent 75 proposed laws to the rostrum to set a new Senate record of 437 bills, 19 more than in 1955.

The House didn't get its 937th—and last—bill until late evening. That total was exactly the same as the House received in the entire regular session two years ago.

In all, the Legislature received 357 bills Tuesday.

With the gigantic task of bill introduction completed, the Legislature swung immediately to the task of voting on worthy measures.

Highway Action Set

The Senate, which has passed only two bills since it first met Jan. 7, scheduled floor votes on three measures this afternoon.

One is an emergency bill to permit the highway director to hire outside help to negotiate the purchase of needed highway right-of-way. The measure is part of the highway program of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

It is expected to go booming through both houses of the GOP-dominated Legislature.

The House also scheduled floor votes on three bills today. They included measures to:

Tighten control of Bangs disease through required tests prior to sale or exchange of cattle.

Grant possession of the carcass of a deer killed by a car to the car's owner—provided the auto was damaged by the impact.

The House passed Tuesday and sent to the Senate a bill to give financial help to private bus firms in major Ohio cities. The House voted 120-13 to cut license fees of motor coaches to $10 a year. The fees now average $300 a year.

Would Help Bus Firms

Sponsor John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin) said his bill would help bus firms now facing bankruptcy to "hold their own" without raising fares. He estimated the fee cut would save the bus companies about $340,000 a year.

A proposal for an investigation of nursing and rest homes died in the House Welfare Committee when the group voted 11-6 to postpone further consideration indefinitely.

A proposal to adopt "Imperio in Imperium" (an empire within an empire) as state motto and include it in the state seal was defeated in the Senate Committee on State Government.

The senate's Code Revision Committee recommended passage of a bill to set up an administrative procedure law for cities.

License Sales Hit Brisk Pace

Auto Tags Purchased At Rate of 600 Daily

License tags, in a sense, are selling like hot-cakes in Marion.

Mrs. Ila Hall, deputy registrar, reported today that more than 2,500 tags have been sold so far. This means that in the four business days since the tags became available on March 1, the average daily sale has been over 600.

"We've had a steady business every day and no particularly long lines," Mrs. Hall reported. Continuation of this steady business will help in preventing a rush of business as the deadline nears, she added.

The new license tags must be displayed on all motor vehicles by midnight March 31. Mrs. Hall warned that since this date falls on Sunday, every owner should note that the very latest the new tags may be purchased before the deadline is 4:30 p.m. Saturday, March 30.

The new tags may be purchased in Marion at the Marion County License Bureau located on W. Center St. in the Palace Theater Building, a few doors west of the entrance to the theater.

The office is open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday and from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Mrs. Hall also said that anyone having reserved low license numbers (below Q-1000) may pick them up anytime now.

Local Library Board Studies Audit Reports

The state examiner's report on the library records was presented and discussed. In the main the report repeated verbal comments made by H. L. Swick, examiner, in an informal meeting with the board in January, when the regular audit was in progress.

Certain inadequacies were found in bookkeeping procedures and practices which the library staff has been in the process of correcting since the audit was made.

The board, in other business:

Authorized Miss Berg to study charging desks available from various suppliers with a view to making a purchase for the children's department.

Medical Academy Studies Shot Plan

A definite program for polio inoculations in Marion County was formulated at a meeting of the Marion County Academy of Medicine Tuesday night.

Dr. John T. Boxwell, president, said that all the details of the program were discussed at length in the meeting.

Details of program will be announced within the next few days, he said. A committee of the academy was to prepare the announcement and will release it as soon as it is completed, he said.

TOPS AT BOTTOM

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — Mystified Waynesboro city workers retrieved 16 garbage can lids from the bottom of South river. More were at the bottom, too deep to be reached. How'd they know about it? The cans themselves were still in the back yards of irate householders who flooded city hall with complaints.

Galion Postal Clerk, Skilled Mechanic, Suffers Fatal Stroke

GALION — Clarence H. Holderness, 58, native of Marion and well-known in the Galion area for his service as a postal clerk and his skill in mechanics, died unexpectedly at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Galion Community Hospital.

Mr. Holderness became ill in the afternoon and went to consult a doctor. While in the doctor's office he suffered a stroke. He was rushed to the hospital by ambulance. He had completed his work at the post office early Tuesday morning and had driven to Indiana to bring his father back home from a visit.

Near Retirement

On May 1 he would have completed 30 years of service with the Post Office Department and had hoped to retire at that time. Last Friday he had returned from Florida where he had made plans to spend part of his retirement time.

He formerly worked as a machine apprentice in the old Erie Railroad shop in Galion. There he gained experience in mechanical repairs. He operated a small shop at the rear of his home on W. Atwood St. where he repaired lawn mowers, bicycles and four - cycle motors.

He held several patents including one on a three-wheel delivery motor bike. He made several children in the city happy by tearing down large bicycles and rebuilding them into junior size models.

For many years he kept the lawn mowers in repair for the school districts and cemeteries in Iberia, Lexington, Crestline and Galion.

Born in Marion

Mr. Holderness was born in Marion to Clyde and Wilda E. Spangler Holderness. His marriage was on May 17, 1922 to Stella Sprow. She survives as does his father, one son, Albert E. Holderness of Galion; two daughters, Mrs. John Aller and Mrs. Lewis Christman of Galion; four grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Robert Smith of Greenfield, Ind.

He was an active member of Trinity Lutheran Church where services will be held Friday at 2:30 p.m. Rev. C. C. Wannemacher will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Services are being arranged by the Volk Funeral Home.

Friends may call after 7 tonight at the family residence at 360 W. Atwood St., Galion.

Israel

Charge Arab Looting

At one point today Israeli officials said they had suspended the withdrawal because Arabs were looting Gaza stores of the U. N. Works and Relief Agency. The complaint against "Egyptian administrators" developed later.

There appeared to be no snarl in the evacuation of Sharm El Sheikh, the Sinai base commanding the mouth of the Aqaba Gulf. Loading of heavy material was reported progressing there according to plan. The troop movement were to start later.

It is understood that the Israelis had agreed to a 24-hour plan for the changeover at a meeting of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the U. N. Emergency Force which is to take over the vacated territories, and Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli army chief of staff.

Seeks Phased Withdrawal

Israel sought a phased withdrawal to take several weeks on the ground that this would prevent chaos and Arab outbreaks. In view of the reported looting, it is expected Burns and Dayan will work out a new timetable.

Fresh outbursts against the withdrawal order of Premier David Ben-Gurion marked a new session of the Knesset (Parliament). The debate, preliminary to a test of the government's strength later in the day, ended at 1:20 p.m.

Truckloads of stores rumbled out of Gaza in a drenching rain. Israeli planes and vessels began moving equipment from Sharm el Sheikh at the mouth of the Aqaba Gulf.

UN Force To Move In

It could not be learned immediately when the U. N. Emergency Force would enter the two areas, but plans called for moving them in simultaneously with the Israeli departure.

A "blitz" transfer was planned for the Gaza Strip, to prevent Arab agitators from igniting anti-Israeli demonstrations. The borders of the strip have been sealed since the weekend and newsmen forbidden entry.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was reported planning to fly to Cairo and Gaza early next week to set up a U.N. civil administration for Gaza. Plans announced for the deployment of the U.N. troops indicated a lengthy stay was contemplated, even if Egypt objected.

Defending his withdrawal decision, Ben-Gurion told the unruly Parliament Tuesday night that the aim of the October invasion was deliverance of Israel from Arab attack, not conquest.

"I am keenly aware of the dangers involved in the settlement we have made," he declared.

As opposition deputies nearly drowned out his words, Ben-Gurion acknowledged that Israel had failed to obtain U.N. guarantees of security against Arab attack. But he said the United States and other Western nations had given assurances of support for maintaining peace in the Middle East.

"The President of the United States has assumed a moral responsibility to aid Israel and many other nations have made statements which involve a moral commitment," he asserted.

No Easy Decision

"I will not hide the fact that the government's decision was not an easy one and was not unanimous, but the government is responsible as a whole to the nation."

Ben-Gurion then made two points:

1. Any Arab interference with Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba "will be regarded by Israel as an attack entitling her to use her inherent right to self-defense."

2. The Gaza Strip will present a grave problem until a solution of the Arab refugee problem and a peace settlement with Egypt are achieved.

Opposition Violent

When the white-haired leader sat down, the hooting opposition staged the noisiest demonstration ever heard in Israel's Parliament. Speakers at an earlier mass rally in Jerusalem accused Ben-Gurion of surrender and demanded that he resign.

In the Suez Canal area, a small Italian cargo vessel carrying 5,500 tons of wheat for Saudi Arabia was refused permission to pass through the waterway. No reason was given, but two wrecks still bar the passage of larger ships.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, commander of the U.N. salvage fleet, said the Egyptians still had not given him permission to remove the hulks of the tug Edgar Bonnet and the frigate Abukir. The Egyptians for weeks have said they must first remove explosives from the wrecks. It is generally believed Nasser is holding up canal clearance until the Israelis get out of his country.

Secretary of State Dulles charged that Egypt had shown a tendency to "drag its feet" in clearing the waterway. Dulles told newsmen in Washington he hoped the clearance would speed up as word reached Cairo of Israel's pullout.

Watt Speaks To Committee Of Ohio House

Recorder Details Plan For Amendments to Rules on Land Titles

Arthur L. Watt, Marion County recorder, was in Columbus Tuesday attending a hearing before Ohio's house judiciary committee relative to a bill to amend sections of the state code dealing with decrees and certificates of title to registered land. Mr. Watt represented both the local office and the Ohio County Recorders Association.

The bill, sponsored by Marion's Kenneth Robinson, seeks to find an amiable method of de-registering registered land. Mr. Watt pointed out that in most cases individuals are not concerned with taking their title of land from the registry list, since land so entered cannot be subdivided or otherwise parceled except by the party in whose name the registry is signed.

In some cases, however, registered land can create a hardship of one kind or another, and Mr. Watt says the purpose of this bill is to give the court authority to de-register it if the title holder so desires. There is apparently little opposition to the proposal to de-register. The question is only in whose jurisdiction shall lie the power to perform this act.

One opinion is that either county recorders or courts should be given the authority, while the other holds that the court, which originally issued the decree of registry, should have the authority to de-register. Mr. Watt said he is in sympathy with the latter train of thought.

Tuesday's hearing was adjourned until a later date, when the judiciary committee will decide whether or not to pass the proposed legislation on to the house rules committee. That action is expected to take place probably within the next two weeks.

Churches Open Lenten Season

Special Services Mark Ash Wednesday Here

Ash Wednesday services set for tonight in Marion include Lenten sermon at St. Mary Catholic Church, ritual for beginning of Lent at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, a service of communion at Epworth Methodist Church and special messages and music at both First and Salem Evangelical and Reformed Churches.

Distribution of ashes to remind man of his humble origin from the Bible pronouncement on the creation of man from the dust of the earth to which he must return, was part of the Catholic rites today. The service at St. Mary Church will be at 7:30

Prayer litany and penitential office will be conducted at St. Paul's Church at 7:30.

Throughout the day Methodist Churches have observed a prayer vigil in behalf of the Lenten Evangelistic Concern, a denominational statewide movement. The communion elements were offered throughout the day to individuals and families at Epworth Church and the special service of communion is scheduled for 7:30 and the church will remain open for the remainder of the 24-hour prayer vigil until midnight.

Lenten evangelistic services will continue nightly this week at Calvary EUB Church.

Evangelistic services begin tonight at Oakland EUB Church.

Auto Accidents

The single Marion County accident investigated by local patrolmen occurred at 11:55 a.m. Tuesday on Route 95, just west of Marion in front of the Whirlpool-Seeger plant. One minor accident was reported by city police.

Patrolmen said a truck driven by George L. Neighbors, 37, of Mansfield, attempted a left turn into the Whirlpool driveway while an auto following it, driven by Melvin Staup, 45, of Mount Gilead, was passing in the left lane.

The two vehicles collided with moderate damage done to the back of the Staup car and minor damage to the front of the Neighbors truck, the report indicated. No injuries were sustained.

Foremen's Club Hears of Need For More Leaders in Industry

"Never before in our history has American industry had a greater need for men who can make successful tactical decisions in human relations," said Paul E. Hensel, guest speaker at the Marion Foremen's Club meeting held Tuesday night in Columbian Hall.

Speaking before some 100 club members and their guests, Mr. Hensel added that, "The only competitive advantage any company has today is the quality of its human relations engineers." Greater productivity and human understanding can do more than any other force to bring industrial peace and halt the dangerous, rising inflationary cycle, he said.

Mr. Hensel, who is vice president of the Central Soya Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind., is a past president of the American Society of Personnel Administration, a member of the American Management Association and is a member of the American Arbitration Panel.

He received his education at Illinois Wesleyan and Iowa State University. He served as personnel director of Central Soya from 1945 to 1954 when he was named vice president in charge of personnel.

"The foremen of tomorrow will be men of vision, deep thinkers and highly skilled in human understanding of people," he told the Marion foremen last night.

All businesses in the future will need pacesetters who feel deeply the responsibility of helping to build greater security for the business, its employees and the owners, he added.

There will be a need for more foremen who can meet the disillusionments and disappointments without giving up their convictions of the way things should and can be done, he said.

"Unless, in building a company, management sees to it that in the line of succession there are a goodly number of such foremen, it will have failed in its responsibility to the future," he said.

Mr. Hensel also listed seven attributes of a "champion foreman." They were that he knows: 1. High costs threaten jobs, 2. Where he can influence cost, 3. How he can cut material cost, 4. How to cut overhead expenses, 5. How to reduce seliing costs, 6. How to secure cooperation, and 7. Office teamwork lowers costs and increases profits.

Only other business of the meeting was the selection of a date for the club's annual fish fry. The event will be held on Saturday, May 11 at 6 p.m. The place still is to be determined.

A. B. Staley Dies, Was Race Driver In Ohio 50 Years

RICHWOOD — A. B. (Eck) Staley, 91, of near Summersville, known throughout Ohio as a harness race driver and trainer, died at San Antonio Hospital in Kenton at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

He was a driver and trainer for over 50 years and drove in races until he was 84. He was best known in the state for his horse Peter Deer.

Mr. Staley was born in Union County on June 12, 1865 to Peter and Martha Turner Staley. He was married to Ada Patrick who died in 1904.

Surviving are seven nieces, Mrs. Hazel Howison and Mrs. Cleo Hoffman of Richwood, Mrs. Clarence Spangler, Mrs. Harry Flesher and Mrs. Esther McCalf of West Mansfield, and Mrs. Nellie Pearson and Mrs. Dalton McMan of Marysville, and one nephew, Staley Wiedman of Chevy Chase, Md.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Winter - Milligan Funeral Chapel in Richwood: Rev. Myron Harris of the Summersville Friends Church will officiate. Burial will be at York Center. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Ghana

Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah told a throng of 50,000 assembled at Accra's polo grounds. "Move about with your chest out."

The new nation — the size of Minnesota with nearly five million Africans — supplies half the world's cocoa and has rich resources of gold, diamonds, bauxite and timber.

The 48-year-old Prime Minister said independence for Ghana would mean nothing if it was not linked with total liberation of other colonial areas on the African continent.

The new country takes in the self-governing colony of the Gold Coast and that part of Togoland formerly administered by Britain under U.N. trusteeship. The name Ghana was chosen by Nkrumah after a rich African kingdom that flourished in the area between the 6th and 10th centuries.

The commission's report proposed:

1. Separation of foreign aid appropriations requests to Congress, so that military projects are presented within the Defense Department's budget and economic projects within the State Department budget.

2. Integration of the International Cooperation Administration, which administers foreign aid, into the State Department "as soon as practicable."

3. Congressional appropriation of foreign aid funds on a two-year basis, spanning the life of a Congress, rather than once a year as at present.

4. Tighter coordination of aid projects within the administration to allow a cutback in personnel and more efficient operation.

'National Interest' Basis

The report noted that $4,700,000,000 in grants were handed out last fiscal year, $3,900,000,000 of them in military aid. It recommended that, in the future, grants of all kinds should be made in "only those exceptional cases where it is clearly in the national interest to do so and when the recipient countries are judged to be unable to repay."

The report observed that half a billion dollars in loans were made last fiscal year. In the future, it said, there should be more loans but only where repayment will be made in currency easily convertible to dollars.

Galion Plumber Wins Default Court Verdict

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll has granted a default judgment here for $2,652 in favor of Edmund L. Malone, proprietor of the United Plumbing Supply Co. in Galion and against John W. Kinsey of near Galion.

The judgment was granted after Judge Carroll found Mr. Kinsey in default for failing to answer charges brought against him. Originally, Mr. Kinsey's wife, Louise, was named a co-defendent but the action against her was dismissed.

Mr. Malone asked $2,165 plus interest from April, 1953, for merchandise sold and delivered to the Kinseys.

3 New Schools In Kenton Will Get Flag Poles

KENTON — The trades and industries department of the Kenton High School has fabricated new flag poles for the three new elementary schools here, Supt. Paul Oaklief announced Tuesday night at the meeting of the Kenton Board of Education. They will be put in when weather permits.

Mr. Oaklief also announced that the department had made 90 music stands for use in the sixth grade instrumental music department.

A discussion was held on the drainage of surface water around the new Northwood School and the board voted to buy enough tile to carry the water from the building area.

Plans were made for the placing of driveways and sidewalks and the general development of the playgrounds at the three new schools. Tabled was a proposal to sell the old West School building.

It was announced that the city health department had completed immunization of indigent first graders for tetanus, whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox. Also announced was the fact that the Hardin County Tuberculosis Society will provide free X-ray service for all ninth graders in the city at Hardin Memorial Hospital on April 19.

The schools have started a survey to determine the number of students who have received polio shots. The information from the survey will be evaluated by the county health department.

The board received a letter from H. G. Jones of the state education department. Mr. Jones examined the school for evaluation. He praised the school for making some improvements and recommended other minor changes. He concluded the letter by stating the high school will continue to remain a first grade school.

Marion Area Traffic Cases

Raymond Shaw, 24, of Richwood, $25 and costs and driver's license suspended six months, reckless driving, and $15 and costs, failure to register motor vehicle.

Robert Moser, 27, of 232 S. Prospect St., charge of having truck off state route dismissed for lack of evidence to prosecute.

—Crawford—

BUCYRUS — A Fredericktown driver was fined a total of $125 and costs in Mayor J. L. Sullivan's Bucyrus court after arrest Tuesday on two charges.

William Swank, 43, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of failure to have a PUCO permit to drive his truck, and $25 on a charge of overload.

Normally when the House and Senate disagree on major bills they set up a conference committee to iron out differences. Then they pass a compromise measure. House approval of the Senate version would make that process unnecessary.

May Ask Conference

House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) said the House leadership has not yet decided whether to ask for a conference with the Senators. He did not rule out the possibility however that the House may agree to the Senate version.

A House official informed on the leadership strategy considerations, asking not to be quoted by name, said there is "a good chance" that the decision will be not to press for the House bill.

The House, meeting Eisenhower's request, voted to give him "authority" to use U. S. armed forces if necessary to help a Middle East nation requesting such aid to defend itself against overt Communist aggression.

The Senate voted instead to declare that if the President determines it is necessary, "the United States is prepared to use armed forces" for that purposes.

Bricker, Lausche Vote for Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Sens. John W. Bricker, Republican, and Frank J. Lausche, Democrat, voted in favor of the Middle East resolution Tuesday night. The Senate passed the measure 72-19.

Both senators earlier voted against two proposed amendments to the resolution. One, proposing to end the program by March 15, 1961, was defeated 58-30.

Elusive Beck

By Victor Riesel

Blue-eyed Dave Beck, American tourist, "does not smoke, drink or play cards—and he exercises to keep trim" Apparently his favorite exercise these days is running around Europe hurdling issues He checked out of Vienna's Hotel Bristol on Feb 22 — forwarding address unknown

VICTOR RIESEL

Not even a check of the continent's best restaurants has turned him up for comment on testimony linking the union of which he is president with criminal networks showing a net profit of several million a year

True we have more evidence of the breaking of moral codes rather than penal codes But this is just the beginning, say the racket-busting senators

Sen John McClellan stated rather wearily the other day that his committee has just scratched a few cities—and the criminal "take' already runs into several hundred million dollars a year

THE SENATOR observed that his group had only begun on the teamsters—and had some 10 other major unions in a score of cities still to go So, what happens in the teamsters case will set a precedent

Dave Beck, though seemingly now ex-patriate, is not yet ex-president of the teamsters So long as he holds office he is duty-bound to make some move to prove or disprove charges that his own Western Conference of Teamsters has been led by some men who had armed their "troops," bullied mayors and police chiefs and used union funds to defeat political candidates

Many of these politicos, though backed by other labor leaders, refused to help the Teamsters spread a gambling racket

This point is made by senators who have gone carefully over the teamsters' constitution They really care little whether Beck brings in his own records. The committee can reconstruct those from income tax returns—and is

What they want is action from the teamsters' president to clean up—or, they say, there will be the toughest punitive legislation next session that anyone can draft

IF THE LABOR LEADERS involved won't live by their own law, they'll have to live by new laws The teamsters constitution says, for example

Article 18, Section 6 "The basis for charges against members, officers, local unions, joint councils or other subordinate bodies for which he or it shall stand trial, shall consist of activities which tend to bring the local or the international into disrepute (and) such other acts and conducts which shall be considered inconsistent with the duty, obligations and fealty to a member of a trade union, and for violation of sound trade union principles "

And in Section 10 "Whatever charges relate to a situation imminently dangerous to the welfare of a local union, joint council or the international the general president, at his discretion is empowered to assume original jurisdiction in such matters . "

Also "When the general president deems it necessary to exercise the foregoing emergency power he may deputize a representative. . . to act for him in such matters Such representative shall have the same power as the general president . "

THIS PUTS IT squarely up to Beck Either he is or he is not a labor leader, the senators say. He may have a case for not showing his personal records

He may want to holiday in Europe and desire to unionize Venice's taxi drivers But he cannot ignore even his own constitution without making a mockery of today's labor movement

The Teamsters Brotherhood is not only the largest union in the AFL-CIO, but also the one with the greatest number of alliances It has mutual aid pacts with a dozen of the biggest internationals, whose officers sit in joint councils with some of the very men already cited and about to be put on the witness stand

THE REPUTATION of all labor is jeopardized, including the scores of decent top union chiefs Mark the words of one of America's most famous investigators

"Ghastly as it sounds, it might have been better if it were learned that these men were stealing from the union What's coming out now is brutal immorality which throws it back to the 1910 era when the public thought labor was an inferior brand of humans

'Labor has been successful in convincing the public that most of it is honest, and that even the few crooks were intelligent, cultured men striving for wages and dignity Now the public sees it in the slime with prostitutes and worse What do you expect the public reaction will be if the national union chiefs don't act?'

You don't have to be Charles Van Doren to answer that one

The Gout

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

If there is anything the average American knows less about than sex, it is probably gout, a less widespread but even more troublesome affliction

HAL BOYLE

Gout partitions mankind into two distinct groups — those who laugh at gout, and those who have had gout

A five - day siege in bed with my fourth attack of gout in 10 years has taught me who my true friends were They were the visitors to my pallet of pain who listened respectfully to my tale of woe, and refrained from laughter until they had left my home and were safely on the street

The false friends were those who leered, "Been living too high, eh?", and who then laughed in my face when I replied with dignity, "No, the Suez Canal is chiefly responsible for my gout"

MAYBE YOU THINK it's funny, too, for a man to blame his gout on the Suez Canal? Well, unbutton your ears and listen to a few facts you probably never knew about gout

1. Gout, like baldness, is a highly masculine affliction Ninety-five per cent of its victims are men and, I hasten to add—what men!

2 Gout is rarely mortal It merely gives you an overwhelming feeling of being mortal The pain is roughly comparable to the sensation you might have if somehow a hibernating porcupine inside your foot suddenly awoke and tried to break out, pushing a thousand needles into your crying flesh

3 Gout is like wealth Most of those who have it inherited it, and therefore deserve neither credit nor blame

4 Gout is a form of rheumatism or arthritis, and a mouse, a horse or an elephant can get it, as well as an English lord — or you

5 Gout specifically is an inflammation caused by an excess deposit of uric acid in a joint, resulting from an inborn defect in the metabolism of purines and a deficiency in steroid hormones (I'm not sure of my medical terminology here, but I think purines are breakfast foods that don't crackle or pop, and a steroid hormone is a self-steering hormone, as contrasted to a spheroid hormone, which must be thrown like a baseball)

6 The idea that gout results only from overindulgence in food or spirited beverages is a prejudice limited to those too brainless to realize that gout often is the penalty of high thinking (as in my own case, naturally) rather than high living

NOW ABOUT MY OWN gout attack, and why I hold the Suez Canal to blame

For weeks, purely in the public interest, I had been cudgeling my brains over the Suez Canal crisis, hoping to find a way to help Ben Gurion and Nasser in their mutual efforts toward peace — and thus give John Foster Dulles a breather between this crisis and the next one

Well, sir—unaccustomed as I am to public thinking—the mental stram, helped along by two days of rainy weather, caused my purines and steroid hormones to back up—and down I came with the gout

Don't tell me it wasn't the Suez Canal But now that the clouds are clearing over the Suez crisis, my purines are floating like soap bubbles and my steroid hormones are again humming like larks in all my arterial highways

Gout, the curse of all us abstemious, high thinking intellectuals, has fled my foot

Don't laugh Think Tomorrow you may wake up with the porcupine in your own foot

With an Automatic GAS WATER HEATER

The secret of truly white washes is hot water that's really hot! You'll need over 5200 gallons to wash more than a ton of clothes a year. Good Housekeeping Institute recommends 160 degree water. (Hotter than your hands can stand.) The economical way to make sure you have that 160 degree water . . . and whiter washes . . . is with an automatic, fast recovery Gas water heater.

Automatic because — you never have to bother about changing the temperature setting, or turning it on and off.

Fast recovery because — it automatically starts to heat more water as you use it. Fast recovery gas water heaters are designed to keep up with your automatic washer.

Gas because it's economical. Gas is the cheapest fuel available for water heating, just as it is for home heating.

Blimp Burns, 7 in Crew Safe

Craft Catches Fire at North Carolina Base

ELIZABETH CITY, N C (AP)—Fire destroye a Navy Blimp after it touched down on the runway at the Weeksville Naval Air Station Tuesday night, but seven crewmen leaped to safety and were not hurt

The pilot, Lt Comdr Harry H Ray, USNR, two other officers and four enlisted men escaped to the ground unharmed as flames spread from a ruptured gas tank beneath the gondola, a Navy spokesman said

The spokesman said the blimp was making touch-and-go landings on the runway and a single wheel landing gear under the gondola is believed to have collapsed, causing a rupture of the gas tank

Some 300 square feet of siding was seared by the flames, which broke out when the blimp's aviation gasoline was ignited—apparently by friction

Johnston, Remlinger, Neal, Hensel Given Honor Spots

ALL COACHES except Waldo's Paul Freshwater took part in the balloting. Mr. Freshwater declined to vote since this is his first year in Marion county and he felt he didn't know many of the boys well enough.

With all voting completed, the all-county first team stacks up as follows: Leffler, Pleasant; Roger Remlinger, Prospect; Clyde Neal, Harry Johnston and Warren Hensel, all of Morral.

Of the 16 boys whose names were mentioned in the balloting, only Leffler, Remlinger and McCoy were named by each coach to either the first or second teams. Leffler, as herebefore mentioned, had 10 of 10 votes for the first string; Remlinger polled eight ballots for the first team and two for the second; and McCoy was the choice of two mentors for the first team, of eight for the second.

WITH ALL VOTES counted, seven schools figured in the balloting, with Morral, Prospect, Pleasant and LaRue each contributing three players to the list of candidates. Claridon furnished two; Caledonia and Green Camp each had one.

Pleasant, besides taking the county tournament title, was also co-champions of the Marion County League, along with Morral and Prospect. LaRue wound up fourth.

Leffler, the big gun in Coach Stan Kirby's Pleasant attack, was his team's sparkplug all year. After leading his mates to a share of the county loop crown and the Marion County tournament title, he sparked the Pandas to the only district tourney win recorded by any of Marion County's four entries.

Busby Leads Cleveland in Hitting Show

Gromek Suffers Head Injury at Tigers' Camp

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP) — The Detroit Tigers moved into practice today with veteran pitcher Steve Gromek the first casualty of spring training.

Dons Seeking Third Straight NCAA Crown

By The Associated Press

The University of San Francisco, NCAA basketball champions for the last two years, had a chance today to try for an unprecedented third straight as the last of the major college tournament contenders were joining the lineup.

San Francisco trimmed St. Mary's 62-41 Tuesday night to capture the California Basketball Assn. title, while St. Louis University and Lafayette joined the NCAA tourney field without firing a shot.

The Kansas Jayhawks also can qualify by defeating Kansas State tonight in a Big Seven battle at Manhattan, Kan. Should Kansas State pull an upset, Kansas still could clinch honors by beating Colorado Saturday.

Wichita handed the Missouri Valley Conference title to the St. Louis Billikens Tuesday night by downing second - place Bradley 99-91 on a 33-point scoring rampage by little Joe Stevens.

A short time later the National Invitation Tournament named Temple (18-7) as the 10th team in the NIT scramble beginning March 16 at Madison Square Garden.

Utah, runner-up to Brigham Young in the Skyline Conference, and Bradley appear favorites to fill the last two spots in the National Invitation, but Duquesne and St. Joseph's (Pa.) are still in the running.

Ohio Entry Wins

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Harry F. Frietchen of Mansfield, Ohio, shooting a 400-36x, won first place in the 50-meter any site match at the opening of the National Midwinter Small Bore Rifle Championships here Tuesday.

John E. Watkins of New Philadelphia, Ohio, was third in the 50-meter event with a 400-35x.

Youngstown Gets NAIA Berth, Nips Steubenville

By The Associated Press

Youngstown leaves Saturday for Kansas City and the 32-team National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament which opens Monday.

Youngstown earned the right to go in a breath-taking District 22 championship game with Steubenville Tuesday night. It wasn't decided until the final five seconds, when freshman Mickey Yugovich arched in the winning free throw to give Youngstown a 59-58 victory.

It was Youngstown's 19th straight on its home floor over the past two seasons and 21st win this season against three losses. The Penguins had to work every minute to do it, though, because one or two points made the difference all the way.

At Buffalo, N. Y., Capital of Columbus couldn't cage the rampaging Bulls of the University of Buffalo, who riddled the Ohioans' zone defense for a 75-64 victory.

In other basketball activity involving Ohio college teams, Baldwin-Wallace made it eight in a row on the home court with a 101-95 win over intra-city rival John Carroll.

Down 17 points, John Carroll cut the margin to a single point with three minutes remaining, but ran out of steam. The game receipts will be used to help pay medical expenses for Richard Kadis, a Cleveland youth injured in September while playing football for Geneva (Pa.) College.

In another Cleveland game, Ohio Wesleyan came back strong in the last two minutes to shock Case Tech 67-65. The Battling Bishops from Delaware, Ohio, tied it up with three seconds left and won it in the final 15 seconds of overtime.

Rookie Hurlers Impressive in Redlegs' Drills

The two — Johnny Oldham and Charley Rabe—showed off their talents Tuesday in batting practice, and Coach Jimmy Dykes said of Oldham:

Oldham, a 6 foot 3, 200-pound Californian, has one strong factor in his favor toward joining the team this season—he's on the national defense list, after returning from military service.

This means the 24-year-old can be carried by the club, yet won't be counted as one of the 25 players the Reds will be limited to after May 15.

Rabe started like a ball of fire in the exhibition season last spring. But he faded early and was sent to the Reds' Havana farm team, where he won two games. Arm trouble developed, and he was shifted to Nashville of the Southern Assn. where he won three more.

First-Year Player Seeks Phils' Post

CLEARWATER, Fla., (AP) — An acute shortage of shortstops may give a 23-year-old Negro, John Kennedy, a chance to play in the major leagues his first year in organized baseball.

Kennedy has been one of the prize rookies at spring training this year with the Philadelphia Phillies. He played last year with the Kansas City Monarchs and says he hit .385. Originally he was ticketed for minor league seasoning by the Phillies, but with veteran Gran Hamner apparently through as a shortstop because of a bad shoulder, manager Mayo Smith rates Kennedy's chances highly.

Burdette, Coan Emphatic Over Salary Figures

By The Associated Press

When Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and Gil Coan of the Detroit Tigers set a price on their services, man, they mean it.

Burdette, a 19-game winner for the Braves last season, has packed up his family, left camp at Bradenton, Fla., and today was vacationing with friends waiting for the club to make the next move.

Coan was even more emphatic. He has decided to ask Commissioner Ford Frick to place him on the voluntary retired list after failing to reach an agreement with the Tigers after being drafted from Minneapolis of the American Assn.

The Boston Red Sox, too, are having their troubles bringing outfielder Jim Piersall into the fold. But his case isn't quite so serious. He has reported to the Sox camp in Sarasota, Fla., and is in top shape.

"They can't starve me out," snapped Burdette, the last of the Braves' holdouts. "I don't have to worry about living expenses . . . I'm doing all right selling lots here.

"I had a good season last year and that's the time to strike — when the iron is hot. I'm not going to budge from the figure I want."

Said General Manager Bob Quinn cryptically:

Coan, a 32-year-old outfielder who toiled for the Washington Senators for several years, said he was holding up his letter to Frick until he hears from Johnny McHale, Tiger personnel director.

"If they pay what I asked," he bristled, "I'll play. If they don't, I'm through."

Praises Coaches

Lamb Addresses Baker Grid, Cage Performers

Clyde Lamb, athletic director at Ohio Northern University, was guest speaker Tuesday night at the annual athletic banquet of Eber Baker Junior High School. He spoke on "Boys I Have Known."

Mr. Lamb praised the work of men in the coaching ranks and urged the fullest cooperation from the parents of school athletes. "A good coach is interested in the boys and their welfare," he told his audience. He went on to stress the importance of conditioning in any athletic endeavor and said hard work and the willingness to train were the top requirements.

Naming desire as the top need for athletic success, Lamb told the athletes, "You must want to do the job." He stressed the importance of each team member to the success of the squad.

He said parents must be willing to work with their child and urged their help in getting the point of athletics over to the children.

Basketball awards went to Hoffman, Dave Haas, Ed Schoonmaker, Wolfinger, Flesher, Maginn, Caldwell, George Kirk, Mike Hough, Ken Coffae, Phil Penry and Doug Bailey. Managers were John Mogg, Bosh and Steve Yoder.

Special guests included Robert S. Brown, city school superintendent; William A. Howison, Baker principal; Gordon Larson, Harding football coach; Jim Gibson, Harding basketball coach; Gene Winters, Zeisler's assistant, and Norman Fogt, director of public relations for the city schools.

Podres Shows New Pitch in Dodger Camp

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Roy Campanella banged his bat in the dust and watched his popup float down behind shortstop. He walked out of the batting cage, shaking his head as he announced:

The pitcher who set off Campy's high-pitched pitch about his change-up was Johnny Podres, the roundish six-foot southpaw hero of Brooklyn's 1955 world championship. He's back after a year with the Navy.

Podres finished his turn on the mound during batting practice, stretched into his jacket and started the long stroll back to the dressing room. "It's hot. I really worked up a sweat," he said, brushing his forehead with his arm. Then he began answering questions.

It was a slow curve that had Campy jumping. "Maybe you could call that a new pitch for me," said the 24-year-old blond. "I'm working on a change-up off my curve. The rest is the same as before — fast ball, change-up off the fast one and a curve. Maybe my curve is better now than it was."

"I feel fine. My back (a cause of much concern when he went into the Navy, due to an injury at Montreal in 1952) feels good. I don't wear a brace. They're too bulky. I may have a bit of trouble with my control, but I've never been bothered by it before.

"I don't know whether my fast ball has stuff. I haven't cut loose yet. But I feel good. I've worked every other day in batting practice. My weight is pretty good too. I'm 187. I weighed 184 in the '55 series."

Fish, Game Group Hears Lawmakers

President Robert McBeth presided over the monthly meeting of the Marion County Fish and Game Association Tuesday night. Approximately 100 members attended the meeting held in the Association's Clubhouse on Route 4, north of Marion.

Robert Gebby reported that the roadway had been completed into the property to be used as a gun range and that the backstop mound would be finished shortly.

Secretary Charles Cocherl reported on the recent League of Ohio Sportsmen meeting in Columbus.

Ohio Senator Atwood was one of the principal speakers, and tremendous interest was exhibited by those present in stream antipollution measures.

Newspaper Raps Nats

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Washington's last-place Senators played their first intra-squad game of the season Tuesday to a 1-1 tie. Today a home-town newspaper reacted with this unkind headline:

"Poor Nats can't even beat each other."

Johnny Powers hit 39 home runs and scored 131 runs to lead the Southern Assn. in both departments in 1956.

Lopez Seeks Help From Bonus Pair

TAMPA, Fla., (AP) —Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox has always had a keen eye for pitchers and right now its focused on a couple of bonus players.

They are Jim Derrington and Bob Powell. Derrington, 17, is from South Gate, Calif., and Powell, 21-year-old former Michigan State star, is being converted from an outfielder.

Both must be retained on the roster because of their bonus status and Lopez hopes one or both can be of some help to Chicago's aging staff.

Gold Medal Cage Play Is Scheduled at LaRue

The LaRue Merchants, independent basketball squad, today announced plans for sponsoring a Gold Medal basketball tournament March 25, 27 and 30.

The event, open to any team throughout the area, will be staged at the LaRue High School gymnasium. Four trophies and 66 individual awards will be presented.

Teams interested in the event have been asked to contact Mike Pekach at LaRue High School or Gene Cooper at LaRue 105.

Harding Ace Undergoes Surgery on Knee Injury

Bob Lister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lister of 329 Carner Ave., is recovering at Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus after a recent knee operation.

The Harding High School athlete is "coming along fine," his father reported today. Lister suffered the knee injury last fall during Harding's fourth football contest and has been idled most of the time since. He managed to see only brief action with the Prexy cage squad before the knee was reinjured.

The Brooklyn Dodgers have their Jersey City headquarters in a Journal Square shoe store. They will play eight games at Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City during 1957.

Cleveland Mayor Joining Fight for Pan-Am Contests

CLEVELAND (AP) — A trip to Washington Friday is planned by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze in an effort to save the Pan-American games for Cleveland.

The mayor said he would wire acceptance today to Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio), who has arranged for Celebrezze and others to meet with Howard Pyle, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower for intergovernmental affairs. He said he would be accompanied by city council leaders who cared to attend.

Also attending will be Douglas F. Roby of Detroit, chairman of the executive committee of the games to be staged in 1959.

Only a direct appeal from the President to Congress can keep a five million dollar federal Pan-AM appropriation from being cut from the budget, Vanik told Pyle.

The Congressman also has sent a letter to the President, urging that he intervene to save the games for Cleveland.

Braves Exhibiting Changed Attitudes

BRADENTON, Fla., (AP)—Shortstop Johnny Logan says the Milwaukee Braves are "going to dirty our uniforms and our faces this year."

"Last year we weren't serious enough," Logan said Tuesday, "but this time it's going to be different. We'll be ready this time. We'll have to be a fighting ball club.

"We're the team to beat and they'll all be gunning for us, but we've got a solid year under our belts and built up the necessary confidence to go all the way."

News on the Off-Beat

The other day on "Today," one of their five reporters, Dick McCutcheon, narrated a filmed and live feature on the drought in the south west. The emphasis was not on the ravaged land — that has been pretty thoroughly done everywhere, including on "Today"— but on the ravaged people.

JOHN CROS

"I was most interested," McCutcheon told Dave Garroway, "in why people stay and plant good seeds year after year and then watch them wither and die."

On film McCutcheon asked that of a farmer who answered simply: "Where would I go? The only thing I can do is stay and hope it will rain."

"How do you feel?"

"Maybe you feel kind of bad, watching the wind blow — one day one way, one day another. All that good land blowing away."

SAID ANOTHER farmer: "Well, we're just staying here. We're hanging on. If we leave, we leave all we have."

"Do you still love your land?" asked McCutcheon.

The scene switched to a church where the minister said: "Let us pray." And the congregation did: "And every day," commented McCutcheon, "the silent prayer is for rain, rain to fill the cracks and baking stream beds, rain to end the bread lines."

Another change of scene, and we saw a farmer and his family at table saying grace. "Mother and father have little discernible bitterness, but they are vehemently outspoken on one point," says McCutcheon. "Their children will not be farmers. Here at this table is represented a national tragedy — the elder Pawliks will stay on their farm; they have no place else to go. But the children will leave; the land no longer offers its age-old security. Perhaps, one day, we might find we had no one to run our farms in this country."

THEN IN RAPID succession there were filmed shots of a dusty field being ploughed, a shot of a church where they were singing, "Faith of Our Fathers," a shot of a man walking his dry furrows, his head bowed, another shot of the church. It had great impact; the narration had style and distinction and the whole thing was brief and to the point.

"Today," with varying degrees of success, is doing this sort of thing often and it deserves more attention that it is getting. This particular bit had a number of virtues that I would like to enumerate in order.

Second, it touched an angle—the human damage — that has not been thoroughly explored elsewhere.

Third, it did it in a combination of words and pictures that brought it home more effectively than either the one or the other could do alone.

Fourth, it was just long enough. Too often, TV documentaries are tied to an arbitrary length of time like an hour or a half hour. "Today" gives a news feature flexibility.

THE DAY FOLLOWING the farm feature there was another interesting bit about the integration of the races in the New York schools. In short, we have made a large noise about desegregation in southern schools. How well are we doing in our own back yard?

"Today" reporter Joe Michaels explained with charts and film about a couple of schools, P.S. 6 and P.S. 86. P.S. 6, one of the finest public schools in the country, is a fine and modern plant that seems, through a peculiarity of zoning that can hardly be accidental, to be reserved for the rich white kids.

"Today" is proud of the fact that most of their features grow right out of the spot news, but remain uniquely their own. Like everyone else, they covered the Egyptian-Israeli trouble and the Hungarian revolt and were on the scene at the recent prison riot in Ogden, Utah, with live cameras.

THEY DELIGHT in the offbeat that no one else has thought of. The other day, for instance, Irving R. Levine, NBC's Moscow correspondent, was on the show with films and records showing the impact of jazz on the Russians. He explained that Soviet teen-agers listened to the Voice of America and frequently record the jazz on it, even though the government was still denouncing jazz as "capitalist degeneracy."

Coming up soon is the story of a modern sort of Johnny Appleseed —a Japanese who planted slips of palm trees along Miami Beach streets which, he thought, needed them. These streets are now among the most beautiful in the town.

Red Hen, Green Eggs

The pullet, purchased last July by John Hubbuch, has been laying pastel green eggs since the first of January. The insides are like any other egg.

Hubbuch can't explain it. He feeds the hen the same feed he gives his 16 other fowls. But still she comes up with green eggs.

Tinted Apple Slices Garnish Ice Cream Pie

Bake the nut-sweet crust the day before and refrigerate to enhance the confection, then at time of serving simply take from refrigerator, fill with ice cream and garnish with tinted apple slices.

To prepare the ice cream pie, use:

3 egg whites
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon baking powder
14 scalloped buttery salted crackers
¾ cup chopped walnut meats
2½ cups canned apple slices
2-3 cup sugar
10 drops peppermint extract
6 drops red food coloring
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Beat egg whites very stiff. Gradually add ¾ cup sugar, beating constantly. Add vanilla extract and baking powder. Break crackers into large pieces; add with chopped nut meats. Spread mixture into greased 9 inch pie plate. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F, reduce the heat to 325 degrees F., place in pie. Bake 30-35 minutes. Cool.

Put into refrigerator 10 hours before serving. Combine sliced apples, 2-3 cup sugar, peppermint extract and red food coloring in saucepan; cook slowly, until apples are slightly transparent; chill. Just before serving, place ice cream in pie shell; top with well-drained apple slices. Serve immediately. Yields 6-8 servings.

Korean Boy Talks To Club at Galion

GALION—An 18-year-old Korean youth provided the Galion Lions Club with one of its most interesting programs of the year Tuesday night when he spoke here. Jeung Han Kim, who met Dr. Charles H. Shambaugh of Bellville in South Korea during the conflict when Dr. Shambaugh was a dentist with the armed forces, now lives with the doctor. He is a junior in high school at Bellville and has been making his home with the doctor for about two years.

At the dinner-meeting of the club at Hotel Talbott, the youth told the group that he was a native of North Korea and went to South Korea when the war began. After the war, he came to America to join Dr. Shambaugh.

The speaker said he plans to go to college when he is through with high school. In Korea, Kim said, there are no free schools, and very little education.

Kim told about his home life in Korea, how he survived bombings in the war, how he took refuge in caves and how he existed there.

Exchange Students

BUCK HILLS FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Ohio Wesleyan University and Bennett College, an all - Negro school in Greensboro, N. C., will exchange students on a short-term program this month.

Dr. Willa Player, president of Bennett College, told a national meeting of Methodist women that six Bennett girls left Sunday to spend two weeks at Ohio Wesleyan. On March 31, she said, four white girls from Wesleyan will go to Bennett for two weeks.

Fire Destroys Tavern

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—A two-story frame building housing a tavern and pool room was destroyed, and at least three other buildings damaged by fire in the small village of Woodstock in Champaign County early Tuesday.

Only one case of polio has appeared in the last year in Denmark. It was a 13-year-old boy who had not been vaccinated.

Donkey Basketball Play Scheduled at Taft Floor

A benefit donkey basketball program will be sponsored tonight at Taft Junior High School by the Marion City PTA Council. Proceeds from tonight's program will be used in furthering the work of the PTA in Marion. Those projects include such worthwhile endeavors as work with the Schoolboy Patrol.

Action will get under way at 7 p.m. with a game between Vernon and Silver St. schools. Post office employes will take part in the donkey battle.

14 Hurt in Crash

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Fourteen persons were injured, two seriously, here Tuesday night in a collision involving two automobiles and a parked bus.

Officers said an automobile driven by Nathaniel Williams, 26, sideswiped another driven by Mary Louise Dietz, 19, and then went 145 feet out of control, crashing head-on into a Youngstown municipal bus which had parked to discharge passengers.

Sukarno, Army Chief Believed Split Over Reds in Government

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno and the head of his army, Maj. Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, were reported in serious disagreement today over Sukarno's plan to take Communists into the government and institute a "guided democracy."

A high-ranking army officer who attended secret meetings between Sukarno and Nasution disclosed that Nasution voiced opposition to the plan.

Officers and units of the army have revolted in scattered parts of Indonesia, but Nasution himself has been regarded as loyal to Sukarno.

The reported rift may point up just how serious and widespread has become the opposition to bringing Communists into the government.

The source quoted Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual, leader of the bloodless army coup in East Indonesia, as "preferring to cooperate with American imperialists rather than Communists."

Sumual fears "that this country would be led into the hand of the Kremlin," the source said.

"We may not be involved in politics but we have the right to object if this country will become a dictatorship for the Communists," Sumual was quoted as saying.

Services Set at Prospect

The Methodist, Baptist and Zion E. and R. Churches of Prospect will hold a union service for World Day of Prayer Friday at 2 p.m. at the Zion Evangelical Reformed Church.

Officers of the group planning the services are Mrs. Fred Gehm, president; Mrs. Harold Click, first vice president; Mrs. Andrew Remlinger, second vice president; Mrs. Clyde Beckle, secretary and treasurer. The service is open to the public.

Fire Safety Plea Issued To Waldo Area People

Calvin Retterer, chief of the Waldo volunteer fire department, issued a warning to residents in the Waldo area this morning to be careful about starting grass fires this time of year.

Chief Retterer said he and his 10-man crew answered no less than five such alarms last week, several of which might easily have gotten out of hand. He noted that the cost to Waldo taxpayers was approximately $75 each time a fire call was answered. "It's fine to clean out fence rows and ditches," the chief said, "but be sure you can control the fire once it's started."

Whirlpool Official Talks

Rotary Speaker Traces Atomic Energy History

The development of atomic energy and some of the problems connected with the atomic experiments in Nevada were discussed by Everett Cox before the Marion Rotary Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding

Mr. Cox has been manager of the physics and chemical research development department of the Whirlpool-Seeger Corp in St Joseph, Mich., since August of last year.

From 1948 to 1956, he was on the firing panel for nuclear explosions conducted in Nevada and Eniwetok, and engaged in various phases of nuclear research while with the Sandia Corp. in Albuquerque, N M.

THE SPEAKER pointed out that atomic energy was "discovered" by Einstein in 1905, but it lay dormant until brought to the fore by Fermi, the Italian scientist

In Dec 2, 1942, in an experiment cloaked in wartime secrecy, Fermi "steamed" an atomic pile in a Chicago experiment that produced very little energy, but set the stage for the development of the atomic bomb

President Roosevelt authorized the start of the Manhattan Project, and the achievements accomplished by the scientists in that group burst on the world with the explosion of the bombs in Japan in 1945

Mr Cox claimed that atomic energy has been overpopularized and overglamorized by the press Solar energy, he pointed out, might well be superior to atomic energy if the millions of dollars placed in research on the latter were used to develop uses of the sun's rays

With the aid of slides, the speaker explained his duties during the Nevada tests in which he was the long-distance blast specialist whose job it was to predict possible damage to cities and towns in that part of the United States

THE FIRST TEST shot in 1951 broke $27,000 worth of glass in Las Vegas alone, he said He also described the phenomena by which sound "bounces" off the upper atmosphere, sometimes being heard over 400 miles away even though undetectable at 150, 200 or 300 miles

The speaker was introduced by Theodore L Hufert, program chairman for March

At a brief business meeting, Dr Charles W Wilson, Robert Bagley and Maurice Cornell were elected to the Rotary Club board of directors for three-year terms

Visiting Rotarians were Jack Hill of Detroit, Mich , George E Planck of Loudonville, Ted Gantz and D Wayne Powell of Cardington Jasper Burt a member of the LaPorte, Ind , club who recently moved to Marion and James Ramsey of Wyandotte, Mich

Guests included Jack Russman of Sassingham, Holland, D G McCamman of Lancaster, Joseph M Mann of Sheffield Lake, O, Richard H Rawlings William Greenhill and James Alaback, all of Marion

Leonard Hall Is Still Waiting For Job Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has come up with no job for Leonard W Hall and congressional friends fear the former GOP national chairman may be bypassed

Hall, back from a Florida vacation, has told friends he hasn't been approached about any appointment such as that he generally was expected to get when he resigned his chairmanship in January

At that time President Eisenhower expressed the hope Hall's "wisdom and long experience... will continue to be available, not only to the party but to the nation in the years ahead"

As an indication of how they feel about Hall, Republican leaders of the Senate and House have arranged to give him a cocktail party in the Senate Office Building Thursday They have invited all Republican members of Congress

Hall's friends believe he wants to run for governor of New York next year and would like to have a presidential appointment for a few months that would keep him in the limelight

Kidnaping Hoax Calls Result in Jail Sentence

MINEOLA, N. Y (AP) — Harold B Snyder, 32, was sentenced to a four - month jail term Tuesday for making hoax phone calls in the kidnaping of Peter Weinberger last summer.

Snyder was convicted by a jury of making the calls to the kidnaped baby's family

The Weinberger baby was kidnaped from his home July 4 by Angelo Lamarca who abandoned the infant to its death in a clump of bushes not far from his Westbury, N Y , home Lamarca is in Sing Sing prison awaiting electrocution

Tie-In Selling Noted in Steel

Slack in Demand Is Boosting Competition

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel mills are counting on an upturn in sales of some products during the next three months, Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

Meanwhile, it said, the struggle for available business in sheets, strip and other products in good supply is becoming more intense.

"Where they can," said Iron Age, "mills are tying in sales of easier products with those in strong demand. The tie-in sale gives the advantage to those mills producing a wide variety of products."

Discussing the prospects of an upturn in some products, the weekly said: "Two of the big three automakers have stepped up their April steel orders, possibly with the intent of increasing auto output the following month."

It reported that "steel users everywhere apparently are taking their inventory cue from the auto and appliance makers, and are going overboard on inventory cutbacks."

"But," said the weekly, "they may be overlooking one important point: Automotive steel inventories have been cut to rock bottom."

Urges Fund Fight

CINCINNATI (AP) — William J. Reardon, who heads a private group that seeks construction of a "Lake Erie-Gulf of Mexico super road", says he thinks Ohio ought to get from the federal government the 319 million dollars spent on the east-west Buckeye Turnpike.

"The only way they'll get it is by screaming for it," he told the Civic Club Tuesday. "This has been a screaming contest from the very start."

Held to Grand Jury

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A Perry County grand jury will meet April 4 to consider the case of three Ironton men who police say have admitted robbing a New Lexington supermarket of $11,000 Saturday.

John Rosebrough, 24, Denna Wayne Moore, 23, and Tommy Shope, 23, were bound over to the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Leonard Euman, who set their bond at $25,000 each.

State highway patrolmen said $11,064.45 was found in the trio's car when the three were arrested Saturday night.

Recluse Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Gillan, a bachelor, lived a lonely life in a shabby $4-a-week room for 30 years while saving money for his old age.

He died Tuesday at 67, while riding in a taxi to Doctors Hospital in Cleveland Heights. Detectives found a bank book showing deposits of $15,496 in his dust-covered, six-by-eight-foot room.

Dr. H. W. Salter said Gillan retired in 1950 after working as a maintenance man at the Standard Tool Co. and was living on Social Security benefits. He said death apparently was caused by a heart attack.

New Facilities Planned At Cambridge Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, acting director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, today announced a plan designed to assure construction of a 120-bed reception and intensive therapy building at Cambridge State Hospital.

Dr. Albrecht said construction bids for the project exceeded available funds by more than $170,000. He said the department is meeting the problem by accepting lower-cost alternates and by approving transfer of $120,000 in surplus funds from another project.

Superstitions, Taboos Slowing Battle on Diseases in Africa

PARIS (INS) — Native taboos and superstitions are delaying man's fight against disease and premature death in Central and South Africa.

Vital health statistics are a prerequisite for the World Health Organization's project campaign in the African hinterlands but age-old customs and tribal taboos are affecting the accuracy of examiners' findings.

An investigator has difficulty gaining the confidence of natives who regard him as only a census taker preparing tax lists and names of men for military service.

A complete census is impossible where most of the population is migratory and WHO officials have adopted the sampling method in an effort to prepare tables on which to base their medical campaign.

Even with the latter method an examiner can do no more than "feel the pulse" of the community. In certain areas he must remember that the death figures given him are affected by the inhabitants reluctance to report a family death and have their public assistance lowered.

In South Africa the figures are more acceptable because deaths call for ostentations public display and the family is glad to have the deceased removed from the family's tax roll. In some tribes the dying are removed to prevent their ghost from haunting the family hut and in others it is forbidden to mention the name of the first born child.

In Moslem areas the questioning of women in "purdah" (walled and isolated) requires utmost tact and the presence of the husband to give them confidence.

Births are more reliably reported because a certificate will be required later to gain admission to free schools, for the issuance of work papers, and family allowances.

Family names are another problem. Children are sometimes given a name to commemorate an event, their birthplace, or even just a simple number. The family itself is liable to change its name several times in its enthusiasm to celebrate a special event.

WHO authorities make no attempt to classify natives by age but use a system of age groupings to establish their tables. These include first, sucklings to two years; second, the young from weaning to puberty; third, from puberty to menopause, and fourth, the aged.

To determine age in an area where there is no calendar the investigators resort to dental examination and observation of other physical characteristics. Historical events, the visit of a great chief or flood and famine, are often used to judge age.

Dr. Axthelm Re-Elected To County Health Unit

The District Advisory Council, made up of the chairmen of the township trustees and mayors of the villages in Marion County met Monday afternoon at the Marion General Hospital's public health wing and re-elected Dr. M. F. Axthelm of Caledonia as a member of the Marion County Board of Health. His new term will run for five years.

The board also elected Cletus Uhl of Big Island Township as its chairman and Royal M. Fields of Claridon Township as secretary.

Humans Show No Permanent Effect of DDT

BOZEMAN, Mont. (INS) — Research reveals that it doesn't matter how much DDT a person takes into his body, it will not have a longtime effect upon him.

The American Medical Assn, committee on pesticides recently completed an 18-month test in cooperation with the U.S Public Health Service at Montana State College.

Fifty-one men were fed measured daily doses of DDT during that time. None of the volunteers ever complained of any symptoms or showed signs of illness attributable to DDT.

One third of the group received 3.5 milligrams of DDT per man daily, another third received 35 milligrams per man daily, and the remaining third served as a check group and did not receive DDT.

The report points out that the 35 milligram daily dose is estimated at 200 times the daily rate at which the average person receives DDT in his diet. The study indicated that DDT is stored in the body fat in direct proportion to the amount taken in.

Pure DDT will accumulate in human fat to a concentration of 340 parts per million Technical DDT, the kind used in commercial insecticides, is concentrated to 234 parts per million of fat.

After the limits are reached, the body eliminates any more DDT that may be taken in.

Pigeons Outmoded

FT. MONMOUTH, N. J., (AP) — The Army is going to sell the last of its carrier pigeons March 23 but not 15 feathered-heroes of World War II. They will be given to various zoos and institutions throughout the United States. Only 1,000 of the birds remain, now declared outmoded by electronic communications.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices eased slightly early this afternoon after three straight sessions on the upside.

Key issues were off from fractions to around a point or so in moderate trading.

The backing - away from recent gains was a logical technical development, Wall Streeters said. The actual moving-out of Israeli forces from Egyptian territory capped the better feeling which has helped the market's attitude toward the Middle East recently. But cross-currents of business and economic news gave no further stimulus.

Steels and most leading rails were down while oils were irregular. Radio-Television stocks held to the upside as did building material issues. Motors were mixed.

Losses of around a point were taken by Youngstown Sheet, Lukens Steel, Douglas Aircraft and Union Carbide.

U. S. government bonds were firm.

Rites for Talbott Are Conducted at Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Crowds of spectators and 190 Air Force men in full dress uniform stood by as Harold E. Talbott, Dayton-born former secretary of the Air Force, was buried here Tuesday.

A formation of F86 Sabre jets, with the lead plane absent in honor of Talbott, flew over Woodland Cemetery.

$368 Million in Sales Listed By Whirlpool; Merger Studied

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. — The annual report of Whirlpool - Seeger Corp. covering the first full year of operations ended Dec. 31, 1956, was mailed to stockholders Tuesday night.

The report was accompanied by a proxy statement of a proposed merger with Birtman Electric Co., Chicago, and notice of a special meeting of Whirlpool-Seeger stockholders at Chicago, March 29, at 10 a.m. in the Sheraton Hotel. Purpose of the meeting is to vote on the merger. If the merger is approved the surviving company will be Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. and its name will be changed to Whirlpool Corp.

Net sales for 1956 totaled $368,220,975. The net earnings after taxes were placed at $13,808,294. That equaled $2.25 per share of common stock or 3.75 per cent of the net earnings per share Dividend payments totaled $8,866,088 or $1.40 per share of common stock and $3.40 per share of preferred stock. Tax payments were reported at $18 290,284.

In their letter to stockholders Walter G. Seeger, chairman of the board, and Elisha Gray II, president, stated, in part:

First Such Report

"1956 is the first calendar year of operations for Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. The corporation began functioning on Sept. 15, 1955. Therefore, there are none of the customary past performances to use as standards for comparison. . . . Even without benefit of comparisons the first full year of Whirlpool-Seeger should stand on its own merits.

"Whirlpool - Seeger Corp. was formed for the purpose of gaining three major objectives:

1. To place a 'full line' of quality major household appliances on the market

2. To sell each product at competitive prices that would insure a reasonable profit to ourselves and to those who distribute our products.

3. To gain a market position and acceptance for our full line of appliances comparable to, or better than, that already established for the products of our predecessor companies.

"The first major objective was reached last December with the presentation to our distributor organization of the first full line of RCA Whirlpool major appliances. It was the culmination of a year in which we continued to increase sales of our existing appliances, while preparing for production of the additional products that would comprise our full line.

Products Increased

"In 12 months the products of Whirlpool - Seeger were increased from 3 major appliance lines totaling less than 50 different models to 12 different appliances approximating 150 basic models.

"Here are a few of the things that were accomplished during the year:

We increased our engineering facilities by 35 per cent

We expended $20,000,000 for property, plants and equipment.

We added 3,600 employees.

"Our second and third objectives are closely related. In order to market profitable product lines each must gain wide consumer acceptance. Distributor acceptance of our new lines has been unqualified. Sales to distributors of those lines that are now in production have been beyond the most optimistic goals. This includes our complete laundry lines, with special emphasis on the new combination washer-dryer. It also includes room air conditioners, refrigerators, freezers and ranges.

Auto Mechanic Class Planned For Institution

Organization of a new automobile mechanics training program at the Marion Correctional Institution was described for members of the Marion Automobile Dealers Association of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Edgar Etter, assistant superintendent of the institution, said that the program has created considerable interest among the inmates.

He noted that the state does not provide funds for the necessary training equipment and materials needed for such a program.

Any donations of discarded automobile engines and other mechanical parts from local automobile dealers or from automobile manufacturers who supply local dealers will be welcomed at the institution, he said. Also any training materials such as movies, instruction books and so on are needed, he added.

The members of the local association pledged to support the program and to provide, on an individual basis, any training equipment and materials possible.

Ken Bruce, another staff member at the institution, also described some phases of the training program there

It was noted that the Ohio Automobile Dealers Association is stimulating such a program throughout the state penal system Purpose of the program is to help rehabilitate the inmates and train them to become useful citizens on their release.

The local auto dealers also pledged to support the annual safety inspection of automobiles to be sponsored by the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce on May 23, 24 and 25.

IN LOVING memory of Moss Sims Jr., who passed away March 6, 1955.

Which never can be filled.

They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss him yet.

God gave us strength to fight it,
And courage to bear the blow,
And what it meant to lose him

Professor Conducts Study

Students Honest, Except On Exams, Survey Finds

CHICAGO (AP) — A survey of American college students indicated today that "systematic cheating on examinations is the custom rather than the exception" at many large colleges.

The survey, conducted by Philip E. Jacob, social science professor at the University of Pennsylvania, was prepared for the 12th National Conference on Higher Education.

In contrast to what the report called "generally low standards in regard to academic honesty" were findings about college students' standards of sexual morality.

Cling to Convention

"Despite the boldness of college talk, dress and outward social conduct," it said, ". . . in personal practice and fundamental belief students generally hold to standards which are thoroughly conventional."

Jacobs' study inquired into what influence colleges and universities have on students' social, moral and religious values.

The answer, he said, is that "for the most part" they seem to have no influence at all.

"The main over-all effect of higher education upon student values," he said, "is to bring about conformity to a body of standards and attitudes of the college-bred man or woman of the American culture . . ."

Essential Aim

Although the "intellectual, cultural or moral climate of some institutions stands out," Jacob said, most colleges "will have to learn how to . . . salvage the most essential product of a liberal education — students who know what they value and why."

Although students generally seemed to profess reasonably high values, Jacob said, "it is with regard to cheating that the chinks in the moral armor of American students are most obvious.

"Frequent cheating is admitted by 40 per cent or more at a large number of colleges, often with no apology or sense of wrong-doing."

Sentenced in Slaying

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—William Carpenter, 28, of Rt. 1, Rayland, was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday for the shotgun slaying of his landlord, Edward C. Wells, 65.

The shooting was last Dec. 6 at the home occupied by both Carpenter and Wells. Carpenter was scheduled to go on trial Wednesday on a charge of first degree murder, but when Prosecutor Bernard T. McCann recommended the charge be reduced to second degree, Carpenter pleaded guilty.

The sentence was imposed by Common Pleas Judge Arthur L. Hooper.

TOO HURRIED PIETY

COMMERCE, Okla. (AP)—Grocer V. W. Minson hurried to church. Hardley had he arrived when Police Chief Aubert Sidwell entered and called him aside. In his haste to lock up, he had forgotten a group of customers were in the store and couldn't get out.

British Crash Kills 17

DRAYTON, England. (AP) — A British royal air force transport plane crashed into two farm houses near its base Tuesday and the Air Ministry announced 17 persons were killed.

Fifteen were airmen and two were occupants of the wrecked dwellings. The 70-ton, four-engine Beverley transport had taken off from the Abingdon RAF base for Malta with 18 men. Three of the airmen were thrown clear and escaped with injuries.

TOMORROW AND TOMORROW

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Dr. John Ryder, dean of engineering at Michigan State, says tomorrow's engineer must really be progressive. "He must believe that if a device works it already is obsolete," says Dr. Ryer.

In the Service

David A. Naus of Upper Sandusky has been designated a "Distinguished Cadet" by Rear Admiral Raymond J. Mauerman, superintendent of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

The title was awarded to 38 cadets who received a final term average of 85 per cent or higher who had no mark lower than 70 per cent. Cadet Naus was third highest in the class of 1958.

Cadets honored by the selection are entitled to wear a distinctive gold star insignia on their uniforms during the term following that in which they achieved the designation.

MUSEUM PIECE

RATHDRUM, Idaho (AP) — The Rathdrum Tribune, one of the few remaining weekly newspapers for which type is set entirely by hand, is presenting its 100-year-old press to the University of Idaho museum. Charles W. Kulp, 77, and J. R. M. Kulp, 76, have been co-publishers for 54 years.
